PUBLISHED AT DRAKE UNIVERSITY, DES MOINES, IOWA

PATRICIA SCHWARTZ, Editor-in-chief

FRANK LIEBER, Business Manager

Around the Clock AT DRAKE UNIVERSITY

CLASSES . . . between and after classes, STUDENT LIFE . . . with active participation in professional and social ORGANIZATIONS . . .
then, a phase of ATHLETICS . . .
all in a day at Drake . . . guided and directed by the ADMINISTRA-TION and FACULTY . . . completing a cycle of . . .

Dr. Henry Gadd Harmon

The main spring of our clock at Drake . . . providing the central power upon which it continuously runs . . . never ceasing, exact, and dependable . . . ready at all times to serve the other parts of the clock . . . friendly, encouraging, and sincere . . . not only keeps it running but sees that it is constantly on time

The Administration

MERRILL M. BARLOW, Business Manager

The wheels . . . leading from the main spring to the balance wheel . . . moving, guiding, connecting parts . . . each one indispensable . . . each one gaining time toward the goal of an expanded university . . . improving methods . . . efficiency plus . . . providing power . . . the "train" of our clock . . . THE ADMINISTRATION.

MERRILL M. BARLOW regulates the ticking of the clock as business manager of the university. Winding his genial way from board meeting to committee meeting, he must ration each minute in his daily round of duties as manipulator of the pursestrings. In a capable, efficient manner, he is laying the groundwork for progress in education, blueprints for the future.

ROY W. BIXLER, registrar since last spring, has already established a record for efficient timing and procedure despite crowded conditions. The author of Drake statistics, he multiplies the hours of the day many times, both in his calculations and in his activities.

ROBERT H. WILKINS, also comparatively new on campus, has an understanding and interest in students in keeping with his position. Students spend many hours around the clock utilizing the equipment and atmosphere of the library of which he is the head.

ROBERT H. WILKINS, Librarian

ROY W. BIXLER, Registrar

The Deans

LUTHER W. STALAKER
Liberal Arts

L. E. HOFFMAN
Commerce and Finance

Scheduling and supervising the busy hours of a day are nine capable men heading the colleges of Drake University. Each is specialized in their own sixty minutes but tick together to form their portion of a complete clock . . . LUTHER W. STALAKER . . . The dean of liberal arts carefully divides his minutes between office duties and the classroom. His congenial manner and striking personality have quieted the sounding of the clock's alarm for many students and led them to their LA degree. . . . L. E. HOFFMAN . . . The clock merchants learn the principles of selling, advertising and the operation of a successful business under the experienced guidance of the commerce college dean. Books balance better and typists gain accuracy after he lends a counseling work. . . . F. G. MACOMBER . . . The elementary and secondary grade teachers training at Drake are met by efficient Dean Macomber in the office of the education college. He also directs the placement of ruler-happy student teachers in the city's public schools. . . . FRANK B. JORDAN . . . A metronome furnishes accompaniment to the seconds of Dean Jordan's day. The music, art and drama of the fine arts college, under the talented baton of its dean, are the chimes of the university.

F. G. MACOMBER
Education

FRANK B. JORDAN
Fine Arts

RUSSELL E. BRILLHART
Pharmacy

MARTIN TOLLEFSON
Law

JOHN H. HUTCHINSON
Community College

RUSSELL E. BRILLHART . . . When he isn't applying a pharmaceutical touch to a mortar and pestle, the pharmacy dean specializes in the study of "bugs." . . . MARTIN TOLLEFSON . . . Our court renders a decision favorable to the capabilities of this dean, whose minutes are spent in the realms of judicial law and order . . . JOHN H. HUTCHINSON . . . When the hands show five o'clock shadow, the dean of the community college is just beginning his night life in a Drake classroom . . . SETH W. SLAUGHTER . . . This tall, dignified dean of the Bible college trains his students for the Sunday hours . . . HERBERT W. BOHLMAN . . . This man, as dean of the graduate division, keeps account of more degrees than any weatherman. White-haired Dean Bohlman also finds time to be acting head of the examining board and teach classes in economics.

SETH W. SLAUGHTER
Bible

HERBERT W. BOHLMAN
Graduate

GEORGE S. BEERY
Dean of Students

GEORGE S. BEERY, dean of students, carries an immense responsibility and carries it well. Dealing in problems and policies, he stacks the cards as favorably as possible for the students he advises. Working always for the students' welfare, his sense of humor is a perfect complement to his daily administrative duties. . . . MISS LEONA M. ANDERSON . . . women's counselor, good-naturedly attacks waiting list difficulties as part of her task of seeing to it that all university women are properly housed. Advisor to many campus organizations, she assists and counsels all coeds enthusiastically and cheerfully. . . . NORMAN JOHNSON . . . takes on the responsibility of increased veteran enrollment with his position as men's counselor. Appointed only a few months ago, he has tackled the ensuing problems with verve, vitality and a helpful understanding.

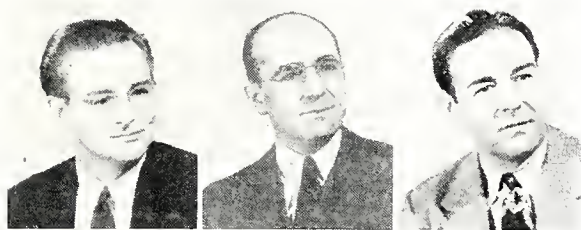

LEONA M. ANDERSON
Women's Counselor

NORMAN JOHNSON
Men's Counselor

Jewels . . . their number . . . their type . . . determine the value and worth of a clock . . . THE FACULTY . . . jewels . . . each and every one . . . helpful, sympathetic, and enthusiastic . . . directing the paths of the students by their interest, advice, and friendship.

The bulletin board helps to keep students, the hands of the clock, on time. Leroy Griffith and Jim Sedgwick are finding something of interest.

A class in physical education and a chemistry laboratory period—both are integral and coordinating parts of the education clock.

Organizations

Active phase of every student's day . . . contributing to higher education, service, and campus activities . . . developing student leadership and interest in adult fields . . . recognizing potential leaders in various honoraries . . . a vital part of the Drake clock

Aleph Theta Ze

OFFICERS

Paul Nicely	President
Don Hood	Vice-President
Raymond Brown	Secretary
Myron W. Stearns	Treasurer
Prof. Frank N. Gardner	Advisors
Dean Seth Slaughter

One of the most active groups on the Drake campus year in year out is Aleph Theta Ze, men's professional ministerial fraternity. The group has a full and varied program that includes weekly meetings, at which prominent speakers are guests, social affairs, such as picnics and parties, and the highlight of the year, their annual formal banquet. The fraternity sponsors Bible College scholarships to outstanding men in the ministerial field. The group is active in the Drake intramural program and is well-known for their fighting spirit and good sportsmanship on the athletic field.

Alpha Lambda Delta

OFFICERS

Barbara Anthony	President
Annabelle Green	Secretary
Betty Nemmers	Treasurer
Miss Leona Anderson	} Advisors
Miss Ruby Holton

One of the highest honors that can be extended to Drake freshman women is election to Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary scholastic organization. Founded at the University of Illinois in 1924, this group requires a B plus average, made during one freshman semester for membership. Pledging and initiation ceremonies are held semi-annually, and are followed by a traditional formal dinner. Primarily fostering scholastic achievement, this group does not sponsor extra-curricular activities. A student elected to Alpha Lambda Delta has taken the initial step toward the goal of Phi Beta Kappa.

One of the largest organizations on Drake campus this year, the American Pharmaceutical Association, was founded last spring for the promotion and continued development of the profession of pharmacy. The membership, being open to all pharmacy students, totaled 150. Each member receives a monthly copy of the A. Ph. A. Journal which is published in Washington, D. C. Its monthly meetings varied from speakers, who are prominent in the field of pharmacy, to round-table discussions on this and other allied fields. Following each program, the association had a social hour. This new organization worked closely with the fraternities for students of pharmacy, Lambda Kappa Sigma and Phi Delta Chi, in other activities during the year.

Omega chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, celebrated its sixteenth anniversary on the Drake campus this year. This organization, founded in 1925, at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, provides useful service to facilitate the activities of the university. The services performed by the chapter at Drake included information and guide service, ushering at assemblies and university productions, aiding flood control officials, giving blood transfusions, operating the campus post office, selling Christmas seals, giving swimming lessons to scouts, aiding the YMCA in its work, registering alumni and visitors on special occasions, and helping with Homecoming activities. Social activities consisted of dances and parties for members and friends.

Beta Beta Beta was formerly a local organization called the Galen Pre-Med club, an honorary biology fraternity. Its activities centered around scientific subjects, with speakers, illustrators, movies and reports providing most of the material for meetings. Doctors and men of research supplied the speeches last year, in addition to the special research reports which were made and given by club members. Other activities included visits to hospitals. The most impressive annual meeting for these club members is initiation. A picnic is held annually to celebrate Founder's Day which is the first of May.

The activities of the Commerce club once again made it one of the largest groups on campus. They are a group of students who are serious in their desire to make a living in the business world. Realizing that social life is an important part of a business career, they have added social activities to their business meetings. Some of their meetings were devoted to the planning of their dance, which was held in February, and their spring picnic. Their main program consisted of a speech by a prominent Des Moines business man. This club is open to all students in the College of Commerce and Finance. It offered to its members this year association with other students of similar aims, many enjoyable social activities and a valuable background for success in the business world.

These ambitious young chemists have added to their educations by making tours of some of the Des Moines chemical concerns. During the year the Chemistry Club has had many guest speakers who have given the members more insight into the field of chemistry. Besides spending a great deal of time broadening their knowledge of this and several related subjects by reports of individual members, the club has found time for some social activities as well. This year, as in years past, a good time was had by all at the annual spring picnic. The combination of their studies and practical experience should help to form a well-rounded group of scientists.

The aim of many of the Drake athletes is to become a member of the D Club. In order to become a member, it is necessary to win a major letter in Drake athletics, to be in good standing with the university, and to be accepted by all the members of the club. One of the biggest activities of the group is the Drake Relays dance at which the D Club sweetheart is presented. Their schedule this year included many parties enjoyed by the members exclusively, as well as several date dances. These boys are always ready to have a good time and can be counted on for entertainment. Their act in "Bulldog Tales" was memorable. This year found many freshman beanies on the campus, another activity sponsored by the D men. One of their favorite traditions is to have a member welcome the Homecoming queen at a special convo.

Delta Phi Delta is a national honorary organization for art students. These aspiring young artists have had a busy year, starting their social calendar with a tea. However, their major event was the "Beaux Arts Ball" at which many varied "artful" and novelty costumes were seen. The members presented several noteworthy art exhibits which were enjoyed by the student body. Many sketching trips were on their schedule. Their social season was so full that many of their meetings were devoted to making plans for the parties. The group's many activities helped make them one of the outstanding campus organizations.

Organized to further activities among law students and to promote a greater interest in the study of law, this national and professional law fraternity has been very active this year. Several law school lunches have taken place under the sponsorship of Delta Theta Phi. They had a Founder's Day banquet at which law, naturally, was the main topic of discussion. These men have another side which is less serious. They had a wonderful time at the annual Barb-B-Que, relaxing and forgetting about the many hours of studying which is always required of law students. At their bi-weekly meetings the members had many speakers, including prominent judges and lawyers from the Iowa bar association. These men are quickly becoming one of the most active groups on campus and are vitally concerned with their future as professional men.

The Drake university chapter of the National Red Cross was very busy this year, sponsoring many activities in which the student body took part. Dances at the Veterans' hospital were attended by Drake women. The club sponsored courses in home nursing, senior life saving, first aid, accident prevention, community service to camps and hospitals, nutrition, water safety and public information. All Drake students are members of the unit, but its activities are led by a directing board. The courses and services offered by the unit have been widely supported by Drake students. This type of organization requires hours of thoughtful planning for its ultimate success. Next year should prove to be another successful one for the chapter, for they already have many activities on the agenda.

From the first "Open House Night" to the final party in May, the Newman Club planned and participated in discussions on religious and current topics, charitable works, Corporate Communion followed with breakfast, intramural athletics and various socials. Activities centered at St. John's Church. This year more than ever, club members cooperated in University undertakings, such as campus fund drives, the Homecoming and Relays Parades. Inter-collegiate activities included attendance at Five State Spring Convention. With the encouragement of the faculty advisors, with the assistance of the chaplain, and under the leadership of its officers, Newman Club prospered in its efforts to achieve this ideal: to satisfy the intellectual-spiritual, and social-physical needs of the Catholic student group at Drake University.

The emphasis of the club is completely on creative writing, with other members of the group acting as critics. This was their method for choosing material for the magazine. In addition to their publications, they discussed the works of well-known authors. The History club was formed on the Drake Campus in 1905. Its purpose has been to stimulate investigation in the field of historical research and maintain an acquaintance with current developments in this field. At each of their monthly meetings this year, a club member presented a report or conducted a discussion among the group with emphasis upon the relation of history to current national and international affairs. This honorary organization restricts its membership to those Drake students who are majoring in history and who have maintained a high grade average in that subject.

A national and professional fraternity for outstanding women in the field of music, this group of singers and instrumentalists does a number of worthwhile activities both on and off campus. During the year the Mu Phi's gave numerous recitals with group and individual presentations and entertained various groups including the veterans hospital and orphans. Their singing added to the harmony and high-light of the Sweetheart Sing. Following their business meetings and musical programs in which alumnae and active members participated, the group enjoyed a social hour. Parties and picnics, too, headed their social activities. As part of their aim to promote the interest of music, they held a contest this spring. The Phi Beta Kappa key is proudly worn by the members of the Liberal Arts college who have maintained a better than B plus average throughout their entire stay at college. In addition to the high scholarship requirement, members are selected also on the basis of character and conduct. To the newly-elected members who were announced this spring, the key was presented by the national scholastic honorary organization. Drake is proud of these students and faculty members who have achieved this high scholastic honor.

Though this national pharmacy honorary fraternity has been back on campus only two years since its war "vacation," it has increased its membership and schedule of activities to its pre-war peak. The principal aim of this group is to promote the correlation of pharmacy and chemistry in both practice and thought. This national group was founded almost eighty years ago at the University of Michigan. Psi chapter was transferred from the Des Moines Pharmacy college which later became the pharmacy college of Drake. The meetings were devoted to speakers from the fields of pharmacy, medicine and chemistry. Dances and parties for members and other students of the college were included in their round-the-clock schedule.

This large music fraternity was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music in 1898. During this year it has been more active on the Drake campus than ever before. Included among their activities have been a Founder's Day dinner, two formals and numerous recitals. The Phi Mu Alpha serenades this year and their participation in the Sweetheart Sing thrilled all audiences. These men also entertained during the half-times of some of the football games.

The Phi Mu Gamma organization is composed of women in any of the art fields—music, drama, art. It is a national honorary fraternity, and the local chapter was founded in 1921. To be eligible for rushing and pledging, a prospective member must be talented and have a high grade average. In the spring their Community Arts day was held with exhibitions on display created by the members. The Minnie Madden Fiske foundation is the national project of the group, giving loans and awards to worthy students.

Before you stand the future announcers, actors, and participants in radio from Drake. Included among their activities this year was a radio conference which was widely attended by members of the profession. All the students were "tuned in" to their traditional "Night of Radio" with its wide assortment of scripts. The group also participated in the national radio-playwriting contest and a breakfast in the spring with a well-known radio personality as their speaker. The campus will always remember the antics of Ruth Horsch, genius script-writer Dale Kocirik, and able prexy Yvonne Westphal.

A national professional fraternity for women students of music, Sigma Alpha Iota centers its activity around developing an appreciation of music with emphasis upon the talents of its Drake members. At their regular meetings, the members participated in group study programs and had speakers from the musical world or allied fields. Another regular event was the monthly musical in which both the active members and alumnae participated. One of their most enjoyable annual events was the Christmas caroling party, and the singing of the SAIs in Sweetheart Sing added to the climax of that evening. A contributor to the International Music fund, they also award the Kathleen Davidson scholarship to the winning participant in their annual music contest.

Though SDX has only been back on campus a year since its rest period from 1941-1946, their aim to advance the standard of journalism has already been put into practice. This year, with Theta Sigma Phi, their sister organization, they sponsored "Bulldog Tales" in which talent from the whole university participated. Following judging of the acts, the winners received engraved cups. High school journalists from all over the state enjoyed the Journalism day which these two groups supervised. Guest speakers were prominent Des Moines writers and publishers. The April Fool's day paper, published by the Sigma Delta Chis, provided many campus laughs.

Consisting of the president and one other member of each social sorority, this group is the governing body of all sororities on Drake campus. One of their annual functions is sponsoring the Sweetheart Sing. All social groups, including fraternities, participated in this Valentine's day event. As always, there was breathless anticipation when the winners of the gold trophies were announced. The Panhellenic formal was one of the best of the year's social functions. Another social activity was the faculty tea held in January by the combined groups. But social functions were not this group's primary objective; they worked "around the clock." They formulated rushing plans and rules and also awarded a scholarship cup to the sorority with the highest grade average.

Meet Drake's governing body, the Student-Faculty council. Through its seven committees, it sponsored and directed major all-university activities. The convocations committee planned and conducted all university assemblies. Speakers, soloists, and artists were included by this committee who publicized and presided at the convocations which they presented. Another busy group was the social committee which arranged all-university dances. Tea dances were arranged by the Student Union committee. The peace activities committee sponsored discussion on world and national affairs. Campaigns for Red Cross, World Student Service fund, community chest, Christmas seals, and infantile paralysis were handled by the World Service committee. On hand at games, parades and pep rallies were the active members of the pep committee. A new committee this year was the Special Events group which planned Homecoming and Relay activities.

A national honorary dramatic fraternity, the members of Theta Alpha Phi aim to promote interest and appreciation in the field of drama on campus. Through their activities they brought drama this year to students in all Drake's colleges. The hours spent making scenery, rehearsing and putting on grease paint helped the members to become well acquainted with all phases of play production. They also found time to sponsor the ticket sales for the drama department and to entertain the Drake drama graduates at their annual alumnae banquet.

Every girl registered at Drake is automatically a member of Women's League. The work of the Women's League board started with freshman orientation. During this period every freshman woman was provided with a "big sister" to answer questions and help the newcomer become adjusted to college life. One of the board's major projects was the sponsorship of the annual Career Confab, a workshop to acquaint women with the fields and careers open to them. Again this year, the group held their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. Since 1948 is "leap year", Spinster's Spree, the turn-about dance when the girls do the asking, paying, and providing the transportation, was one of the most looked-forward-to dances of the year. The governing body of this group is composed of junior and senior women.

Every year the Young Women's Christian association proves by its activities that it is one of the most prominent groups on Drake campus. Every member participated in a special interest group. This year these groups included the veteran's wives' recreation club, YWCA voluntary service (including "Y" nursery work in collaboration with junior high and high school clubs), the marriage study group which held discussions and had speakers from allied fields of interest, and the foreign relations group. Monthly general meetings of all members combined a social hour with the program. Representatives from the Drake organization attended regional conferences at the YM-YW camp. Another "Y" tradition, the group again sponsored the annual Christmas Party.

Major highlight of the year for members of this national professional speech arts fraternity was the presentation of the Zeta drama award for outstanding work in student play production. The award is part of their program to promote a high standard of speech and professional philosophy for women in this field. Best liked and best known of all Zeta traditions were their "coffees" held after the last performance of each university production. Here the cast and crew, faculty and friends relaxed and discussed the plays. Also in the social life of the Zeta's were a Christmas party and a May morning breakfast for members and alumnae.

DRAKE, 7---TEXAS MINES, 19

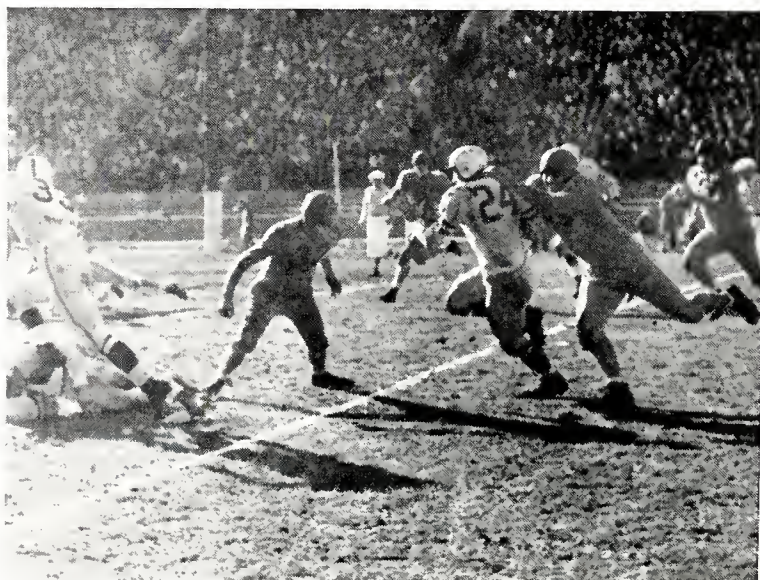

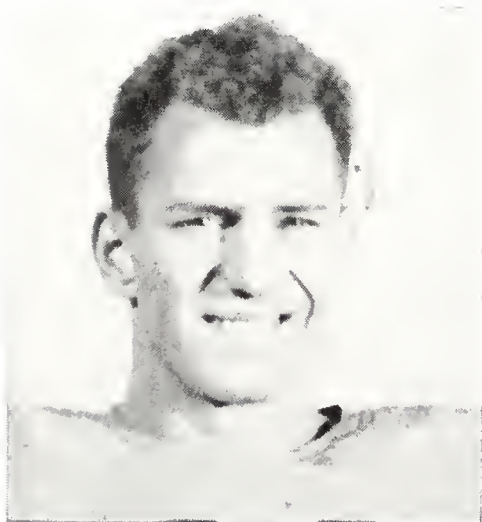

The Bulldogs opened the 1947 football season with a new coach, Al Kawal, and a lineup well sprinkled with freshman talent. Inexperience proved their downfall, but the Blue and White eleven nevertheless looked impressive in defeat, as Texas Mines won out, 19-7. The Miners' passing was a thorn in Drake's side throughout the game.

The following week, Colorado A. & M. handed the Bulldogs another setback, 23 to 19, in one of the wildest games ever staged in Drake stadium. Drake made a valiant attempt to salvage the game in the final quarter by scoring 12 points, but the Aggies' 23-7 haltime lead proved too much of a deficit to overcome.

DRAKE, 14---TULSA, 28

The Bulldogs growl, but gain little.

What was billed as a runaway for Tulsa proved to be a bitterly fought battle, with the Bulldogs outplaying the vaunted Golden Hurricane all afternoon, only to come out on the short end of a 28-14 score. The Blue and White eleven shocked the Tulsans in the second period, after a scoreless initial quarter, on a spectacular touchdown run by Bobby Clark. Three of Tulsa's touchdowns came on breaks: a 98-yard punt return, 50-yard pass play and a blocked punt. Co-captain Wally Rooker was the outstanding back on the field with his power running and inspirational leadership.

Drake had a football victory in its grasp at halftime against Wichita, but fell apart in the third quarter. The Shockers were there to pick up the win, 21-13. The Bulldogs scored first, but Wichita tied it up soon after. On the last play of the first half, end Jim McLeran gathered in the pigskin after a blocked field goal attempt and rambled 72 yards for a touchdown. Wichita wrapped up the game with two scores in the third quarter, one on a blocked kick. Penalties plagued Drake all afternoon. A total of 110 yards were racked up against the Bulldogs.

Speedster Bobby Clark scampers around end for short gain.

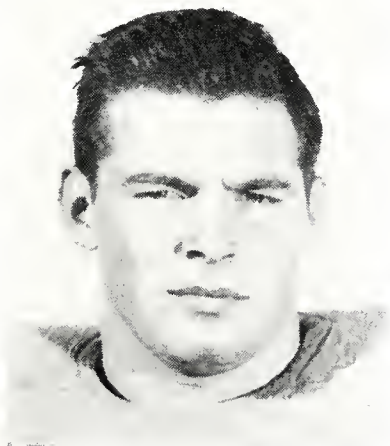

DRAKE, 13---WICHITA, 21

DRAKE, 12---ST. LOUIS, 41

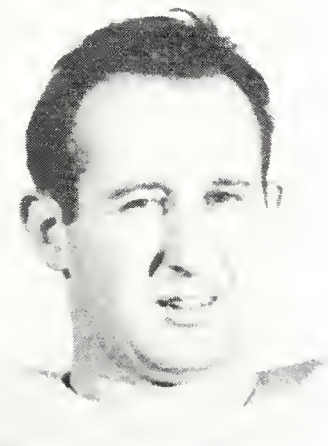

Don Sweet high-steps past one Billiken, with another waiting to bring him down.

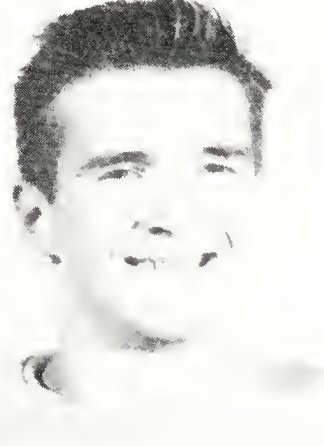

Scoring in every period, St. Louis' Billikens thundered past the Bulldogs 41-12, handing Drake its fifth straight defeat of the season. The Blue and White eleven made a game of it in the first quarter. After St. Louis had opened the scoring, Bobby Clark gathered in a Billiken punt and threaded his way 70 yards for a touchdown. Although the score indicated a runaway, it was anything but that. Statistics show that Drake battled the Billikens on almost even terms. Again the Bulldogs had trouble with the officials, losing 105 yards on penalties.

A football team, like anyone, can get kicked around just so long. For 11 straight games Drake failed to win a game, and the Bulldog gridders figured it was time to call a halt. So for the first time in 17 years a Bulldog team rose to beat Oklahoma A&M, 13-9, in a sea of mud at Drake stadium. The Cowpokes scored first, but Drake came right back to narrow the count to 7-6, on a brilliant pass catch by the sensational Tom Bienemann. The Bulldogs spotted the visitors two more points on a safety before scoring the game winning marker. The Blue and White eleven outclassed the highly-favored Aggies all the way, and it was a well deserved victory for Al Kawal's freshman eleven.

Action in the last few minutes of play.

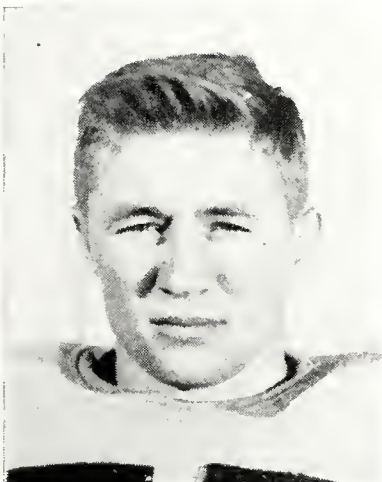

DRAKE, 13---OKLAHOMA A & M, 9

DRAKE, 6---IOWA TEACHERS, 6

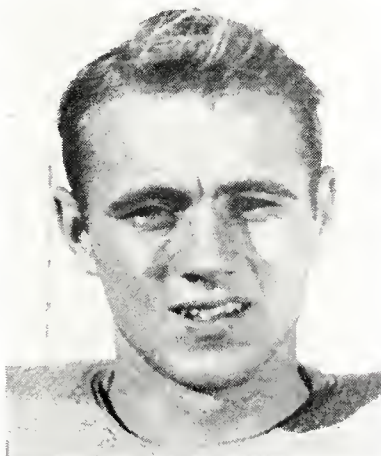

Joe Makarewicz, top mudder, slogs through Tutor line.

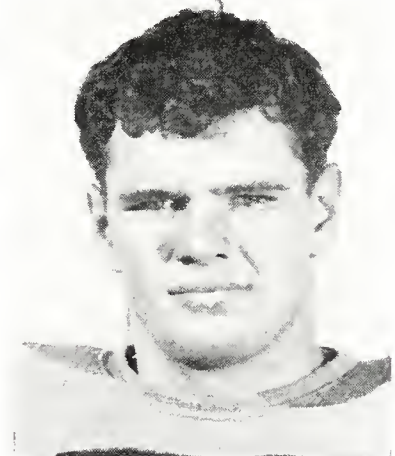

The great Tom Bienemann saved Drake from another defeat against Iowa State Teachers, on an almost impossible pass catch over the goal line, to allow the Bulldogs to tie the Tutors, 6-6. At that point, with only two minutes to go, the Tutors were enjoying a 6-0 lead. Bienemann, completely surrounded by enemy gridders, leaped high in the air, glued his finger tips to the ball and fell for the game-tying score. With a chance to take over the lead on the conversion, the pass from center sailed high over Dick Steere's head. Both teams battled on almost even terms throughout the game on a field almost completely submerged in mud and water. The Tutor touchdown came in the second quarter, the result of a blocked Bulldog punt.

The howling fury of a mighty Cyclone blew in from the north, completely devastated Drake homecoming, and left behind a battered and bewildered Bulldog eleven, 36-6. Taking charge from the very start, Iowa State kept battering away scoring in every period, and made a runaway of a traditional battle that was slated to go either way. The Bulldogs fought valiantly all the way, but just couldn't stop the near-perfect Cyclones. Behind 17-0 at half time, Drake came back in the second half strong, but soon bogged down. The lone Bulldog touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a drive covering 75 yards. Mel Gordon climaxed the march on a quarterback sneak from one yard out.

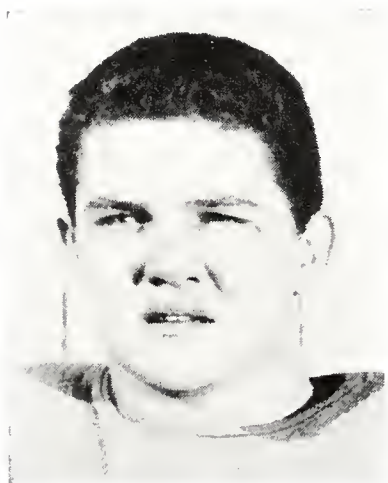

Bob Handke takes Drake out of a bad hole with 35-yard kick.

DRAKE, 7---NEW MEXICO, 8

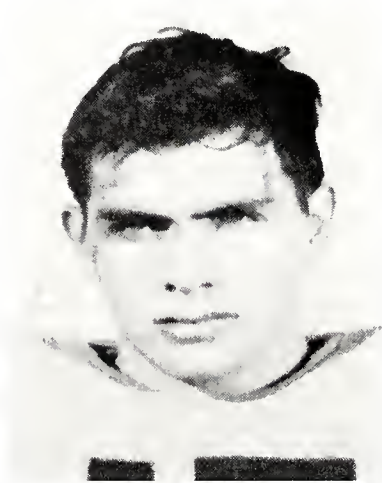

Watch out for Clark! He's there to stop this enemy advance.

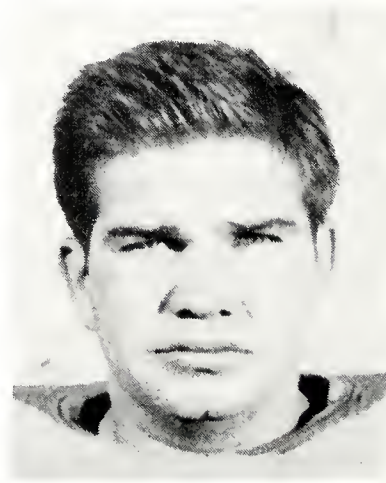

Leading most of the way, Drake couldn't hold off the rugged New Mexico backs in the final quarter, and the Lobos went on to eke out an 8-7 win in the Bulldogs season finale. Only four minutes remained when the Lobos scored their touchdown. Before that the Bulldog line managed to hold off all the home-team could offer, five times stopping the Lobos inside the ten-yard line. Bad breaks caused the Blue and White eleven's downfall. New Mexico was handed two points when Ralph Rook was tackled behind the goal line. A second Bulldog touchdown, manufactured by Rook from nine yards out, was called back and Drake penalized 15 yards for clipping. For Co-captain Jerry St. Clair it was the final game of his college career. He is the only Drake player lost by graduation.

BEHIND THE SCENES

RUSSELL COOK
Director of Athletics

The man behind the scenes is Russell Cook, in his second year as director of intercollegiate athletics. It's the coaches and players who take the bows for the victories, but it's the athletic director who must coordinate and be responsible for the operation and success of the over-all athletic program. Everything from buying equipment to the selection of the coaches comes under the jurisdiction of the director. During his two-year tenure as top man, Mr. Cook has added a new football and basketball head coach, two full-time assistant football coaches and a baseball coach to the Bulldog coaching staff. This enlarged staff is the biggest in Drake history.

Cook was graduated from DePauw University in 1918, where he starred in football, basketball and track. He is a veteran of both World Wars. He served as director of athletics at Great Lakes Naval Training station from 1941 to 1943. He came to Drake from St. Louis in May, 1946, where he was commander of the Naval Training school.

1947-48 IN REVIEW

Coach Fordy Anderson's second edition of Drake Bulldogs waded through a harsh 26-game schedule coming out on top in 14 of the encounters. In Missouri Valley competition the Blue and White won five and lost five while against non-conference foes they captured nine contests and lost seven.

The bright lights of the cage campaign were supplied by Long John Pritchard and Bill Evans. Pritchard's scoring coupled with Evans' jumping-jack qualities provided the sparks necessary to set off more than one rally that livened up the sporadic season. Freshmen John Rennieke and Marty Carlson showed up well in a number of games showing promise of becoming excellent ball players in the future.

The tower-like Pritchard walked off with scoring honors for the second consecutive year, separating himself from the rest of the squad by more than one hundred points. Bill Evans and Gene Ollrich followed in a tie for second position.

Tabulating the total points scored during the season, the opposition nicked the Bulldogs by forty points, 1,308 to 1,268. In overall competition Drake averaged 48.8 points per contest while their opponents swished the net for a 50.3 average.

Evans' all-around steady, stellar performances earned for him a first team berth on the Associated Press All-Missouri Valley team and a second position on the United Press all-conference squad. John Pritchard received honorable mention on the AP squad.

The chief difficulty that seemed to hound the Bulldogs throughout the hardwood term was the lack of consistent scoring from the forward positions. Gene Ollrich found his scoring eye too infrequently to pose much of a threat, while Herb Rothbart and a trio of newcomers, Art Ollrich, Gene Saucke and Jack Rosser, could not work out a suitable scoring formula.

However, the Bulldogs wound up in third place in the strong Missouri Valley Conference and managed a .536 overall percentage against some of the country's leading quintets.

LYLE NAYLOR

GORDON FLICK

WELL DONE, MEN

A couple of old hands bowed out of the collegiate basketball picture as the curtain was rung down on the 1947-48 cage season.

Gordon Flick, who earned three letters during his basketsteering days, leaves behind him a host of fans. His constant scoring threat won a number of ball games for the Blue and White and contributed towards victory in many others. In his final season Flick tallied 125 points which when added to his 46-47 total of 145 and his 45-46 total of 250 give him a grand total of 520 points for his collegiate career. In the 1945-46 campaign, Gordy was placed on the first squad of the Associated Press All-Missouri Valley team. In 1946-47 he received honorable mention.

Lyle Naylor, also a three year letter winner as a cager, will long be remembered for his floor play. Never a heavy scorer, Lyle concentrated on ball hawking and many passes were intercepted by those long reaching arms which he possessed. His spirit and aggressiveness won for him many fans. The Bulldogs of next season will miss his pep and chatter.

BILL EVANS

Opening the season against Hamline, the Bulldog quintet came up against a high-scoring gent named Hal Haskins who poured in 23 points and accounted for a heart-breaking loss, 45-42. The Drakes' inability to snare the rebounds was largely responsible for the reversal. Drake trailed most of the way and John Pritchard's eleven points were not enough to narrow the gap. The Bulldogs' first outing on a foreign floor was a successful one, as they spanked Iowa State Teachers, 58-49. A spurt in the final six minutes shoved the Des Moines quintet into the winner's column. John Rennie and Pritchard captured the scoring honors with 14 and 12 points, respectively. Drake continued its winning ways, to the delight of the home fans, by breezing past Emporia Teachers, 53-41, behind Pritchard's 16-point fire. Starting out shakily, the Blue and White cagers steadied themselves before the half ended and came back to pour it on during the final period. Herb Rothbart's ten markers were good enough for second high among the point getters.

A late rush by the University of Missouri provided sufficient impetus to give the Big Seven rival a thrilling 43-38 conquest over the visiting Drake outfit.

Tied at 38-all going into the final two minutes of the wild fray, the Missourians succeeded in dumping in five points while blanking Drake and then went into a stall that spelled out the Bulldogs' second loss in four games. Pritchard's 13 points were the main force of the Drake attack. Drake needed an extra period to grab a hair-raising 70-67 thriller from Rice, but John Pritchard paved the way. As the regulation time ran out, the teams were locked at 60-up, after the Bulldogs had waged an uphill battle to overcome a haltime deficit. Gene Ollrich's 18 markers, added to Pritchard's 23 brought on the victory. A 50-38 triumph over San Diego State provided a breather in the Bulldogs' hectic cage campaign. Drake led all the way and was never closely pressed. Herb Rothbart's ten points were matched by Gordon Flick as that pair took top scoring honors.

Colorado A & M was next to fall before the Bulldogs as they tumbled, 65-44. The contest never took on the aspect of a close battle, as Coach Anderson emptied the bench giving the second-stringers a chance to strut their stuff. John Pritchard and Gene Ollrich took the one-two spots in the scoring parade with 17 and 11 points, respectively. Drake continued to be inhospitable to its Colorado visitors as it whipped Denver, 62-54, in the second Invitational Corn Bowl Classic held at the Drake Fieldhouse. The fray was punctuated with 49 fouls and was characterized by one march to the charity line after another. After overcoming a two-point halftime deficit, the Bulldogs tightened their defense and rammed thirty-three second half points through the net while holding the opposition to twenty-one.

MARTY CARLSON, GUARD

The last game of the Christmas vacation saw the Bulldogs playing host to their arch rivals, Iowa State College. The Cyclones put up a spirited fight which saw them score five points within twenty seconds to defeat the Blue and White before six thousand spectators, 49 to 47. Drake led by five points with two minutes to play when ISC staged their spectacular rally to pull the game out of the fire. Bill Evans played his usual superb game on defense, while John Pritchard topped all scorers with twenty-two tallies. Traveling to Emporia Teachers for their next non-conference tilt, the Bulldogs ran into a revengeful, waiting Emporia Teacher team who after leading only 27 to 23 at intermission suddenly caught fire to out score the Des Moines team, 69 to 47. Bill Litchfield and Wilbur Reeser of Emporia were the offensive stars of the contest, each tossing in seventeen points, while the best the Drake squad could do was nine points for Bill Evans and seven for Verle Burgason. Returning to Des Moines for their next non conference battle, the Bulldogs played host to the invading University of Ecuador. The South American quintet proved quite a problem to Fordy Anderson's boys in the first half, but after making a close game of it for thirty minutes they couldn't keep up the pace and the Bulldogs fashioned a 51 to 41 win.

Another Big Seven school, Kansas, was the Bulldogs next non-Missouri Valley opponent. Traveling to the former's school, the Drake team ran into the shooting of Otto Schnellbacher, All-Big Seven football and basketball ace, who personally scored 22 points in downing the Drake squad 72 to 42. The Bulldogs couldn't seem to get started as is evidenced by their trailing 36 to 22 at the half. Pritchard led the team in scoring with eight points.

The next game saw the Blue and White travel to Ames for a return engagement with ISC. It was here that the Bulldogs played probably their best game of the season. Jumping off to a 3-0 lead they gained sweet revenge for the game they lost at Drake. Leading by fifteen to twenty points throughout the contest and by 32 to 16 at intermission, the Drake squad coasted to a 60-49 win to even the season's series.

Traveling to Kansas State the Bulldogs once again ran into Big Seven opposition, and in a game marked by close officiating and many fouls, they dropped a 56-45 decision. Behind only 23 to 17 at halftime, the Bulldogs couldn't keep up with the scoring of Clarence Brannum and Jack Dean who tallied fourteen and fifteen points respectively for the K-Staters. Herb Rothbart's ten points were high for Drake with Pritchard gathering nine.

Washington University of St. Louis was the next non-conference foe of Coach Anderson's team at the fieldhouse. The Bears put up a tough defense and their superior rebounding earned them a 24 to 21 halftime lead. In the following period, however, Bill Evans led the way and the Drake squad after finally tying the game, forged ahead and with the aid of several charity tosses won the game 48-41.

The last non-conference tilt was a return engagement with the Bears of Washington University at St. Louis. Stan London, brilliant guard of the Bear team, scored sixteen points for his team to lead them to a 50-39 victory over the tired Drake cagers who two nights before had battled the Billikens before dropping a close battle. Evidence of the final result is shown by the fact that Washington connected on forty-four per cent of its field goal attempts while the Blue and White made good on only 27 per cent.

MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE

The Bulldogs opened their Missouri Valley Conference campaign with a 43 to 41 win over Wichita on the latter's court. Playing without the services of John Pritchard, the Andersonmen had to rely on speed to overcome their loss. Bill Evans with twelve points and Herb Rothbart with eleven led the team in scoring. For the Shockers it was Monty with seventeen points who took scoring honors for his team and for the game.

The second meeting between these two teams took place on the Drake court, and once again the Bulldogs eked out a two point decision, this time the score being 48 to 46. Leading all the way after a slow start, Coach Fordy Anderson's cagers saw their lead dwindle in the second half until finally Wichita tied it up at 46 a piece. Then with thirteen seconds left John Pritchard scored on a tip in to bring victory. John Rennie led the Drake team in scoring with twelve points.

The only other team to fall twice this year to the Bulldogs was Tulsa. Down in the 'Oil City', where the first game was played, Drake leading from the start won handily, 69 to 53. It was 31-25 at the half in favor of the Bulldogs who slowly pulled away after the intermission. Once again John Pritchard topped the scorers, tossing in fifteen points followed by Bill Evans with thirteen.

Tulsa's visit to Des Moines proved disastrous as the Drake quintet piled up their highest score of the season in fashioning a 72-51 win over the Golden Hurricane. The Bulldogs raced to a 6 to 0 lead in the first minute and were never in danger. Gordy Flick, playing his best game of the campaign, led all scorers with seventeen points and Art Ollrich and John Pritchard rang up ten each.

Against Creighton the Blue and White broke even winning at home and losing at Omaha. The victory, a 51-35 decision, was achieved after a slow first half which saw the Jays stall the majority of the period. Drake, however, led at the half and then in the second stanza Gordon Flick led the way with eight of his eleven points. John Pritchard and Bill Evans tied for top scoring honors with twelve each.

In the last game of the season Creighton took the Bulldogs into camp, 42-36. The inability of the Drake squad to connect from the floor proved their downfall, along with some tricky ball handling by the Creighton guards, Gene Lally and Pinky Knowles. Once again John Pritchard took scoring honors for the Drakes, this time with eleven points.

MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE

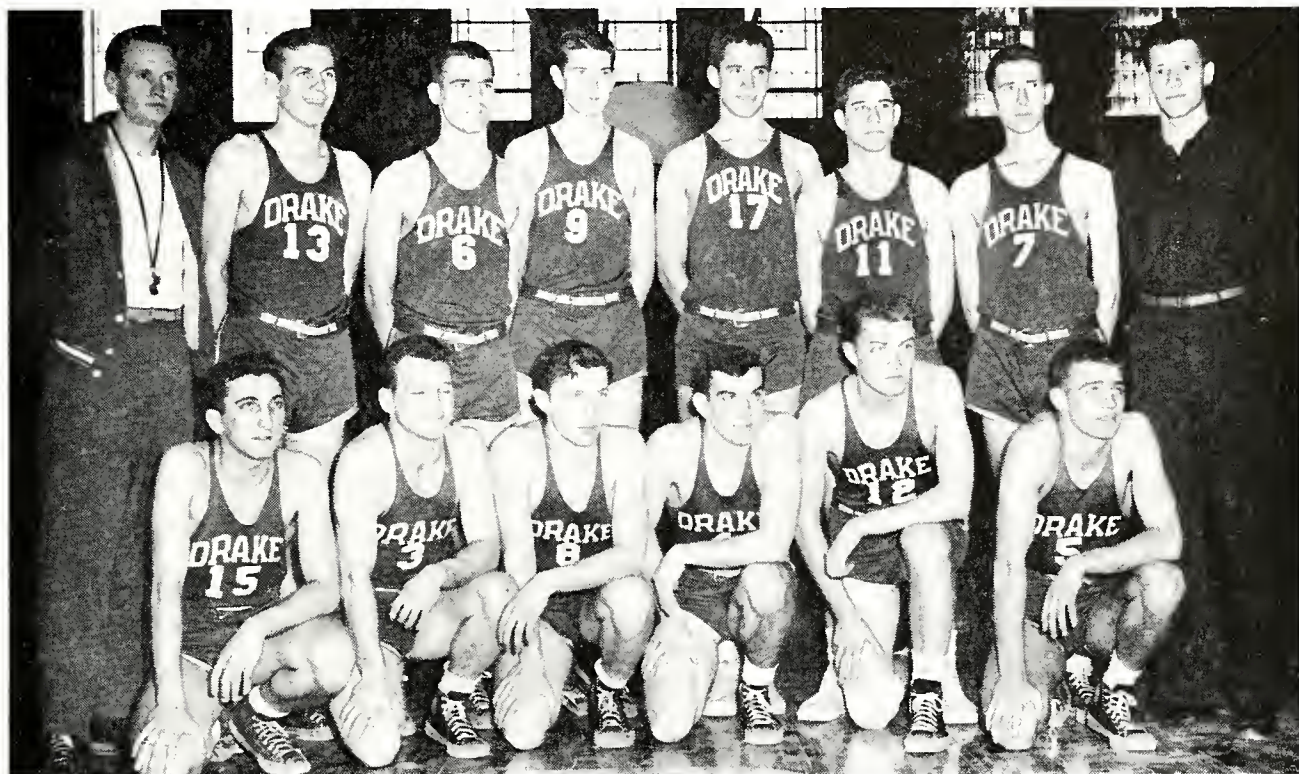

The second largest crowd of the season, 5,500 fans, saw Drake go down to defeat before the highly touted St. Louis Billikens, 63-34. Coach Eddie Hickey's squad broke into an 11-0 lead which they increased steadily throughout the game, leading at the half 27-11. In a game which saw Pritchard outscore All-American Easy Ed Macauley eleven to nine, it was the sharp eyed shooting of freshman Marty Carlson that caught the fancy of the crowd. Marty scored four times from the floor in attempting to start a Drake rally, but the Billikens were not to be denied and won going away.

The Bulldog's return trip to St. Louis almost resulted in a major upset as they battled the St. Louis squad right down to the wire before going down to defeat, 45-41. At the half it was 22-20 in favor of the Billikens, but they had just a little too much power and succeeded in stalling the last few minutes during which the Blue and White were unable to close the gap. Gene Ollrich temporarily recaptured his scoring eye to lead the visiting team in scoring with fourteen points.

Traveling down to Stillwater, Oklahoma, the Drake team ran into one of the most disastrous nights they have seen in many a year. The Aggies of Oklahoma dealt the Bulldogs an 85-29 defeat in running up their highest score of the year. Big John Pritchard was completely shackled in the first half and almost as much in the second period garnishing only three points, while Bill Evans managed to rack up a total of eight for scoring honors.

The Aggies were almost the victims of an upset when they played a return visit to Des Moines later in the year. After jumping into a 10 to 1 lead, they were played on even terms by a fighting band of Bulldog cagers who finally succumbed to one of the nation's top teams, 48 to 38. Although on the bench for almost half of the second half, Pritchard led both teams in scoring with 15 points. The game was one of the roughest played on the Drake floor all year and certainly one of the most hotly contested by the Blue and White. Definite underdogs going into the battle, the squad, after getting off to a shaky start, settled down and played one of their best games of the campaign. Bill Evan's all around floor work and John Pritchard's shooting were highlights of the contest.

Bulldog cage followers are already looking forward to next season when the Varsity bolstered by some of the 1947-48 B team squad takes the floor.

Coached by Jack McClelland, the Bullpups of the hardwood scored 696 points to the opposition's 417 in winning all thirteen of the contests.

High point man for the B team was Russ McLaughlin who broke the net for 130 points followed by Don Sweet with 96. Verle Burgason with seventy-seven tallies and Jeff Dunham with seventy-six give evidence to the well balanced squad which represented the Blue and White against such formidable opponents as Simpson college, Webster City, Boone, Grandview, Ellsworth, and Bloomfield junior colleges.

The all around play of Steve Bindas, Jim Roth and Duane Jewell as well as that of Jack Kaley and Ben Sapp contributed immensely to the undefeated season of the B team.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Tommy Deckard, former Indiana great, took over the reigns of the Drake cross-country and track teams in January, replacing Bill Easton, who resigned to accept the same position at Kansas University.

Deckard is no stranger to the Drake stadium track, because in 1936, he and three running-mates from Indiana set a new Relays record in the four-mile relay. The following year, that same foursome set a new world record in the same event. Deckard is a record holder as an individual too. He holds the world record for the 3,000 meter steeplechase, which he set in Madison Square Garden in 1937.

The former distance star becomes the second consecutive Drake track coach to come from Indiana. As head coach of track and field, and director of America's Athletic Classic, The Drake Relays, a big job lies ahead for him. But his past record as competitor and coach stands as proof of his ability. We welcome him to the Drake athletic staff, and hope that his stay will be long and prosperous.

The end of another long trek for Johnston.

Gone from the ranks were such outstanding runners as Freddie Feiler and Bill Mack. The team was further handicapped because it was left without a coach after the sudden resignation of Bill Easton. Despite the odds against them, the Bulldog harriers of 1947 nevertheless hung up a commendable record. It was nothing like the Drake team of the three previous years, which captured the national crown each year, but still was ranked as one of the best in the country.

Lack of competition plagued the Bulldogs at the beginning of the season. Few schools were willing to meet the Blue and White thinclads, and no athletic team can improve without competition.

In their first meet, the Bulldogs swept past Cornell college of Mount Vernon, 15-44. At the Loyola Invitational meet in Chicago, the harriers met defeat for the first time in five years, placing third behind Notre Dame and Wisconsin.

Two titles were added to the Drake record on Nov. 15, when the Blue and White harriers won the Central Collegiate and Missouri-Valley conference meets, run at the same time over the Waveland course. Howard Johnston won first place, followed across the finish line by Bill Lahey and Fred Schoeffler.

The Bulldogs relinquished their national collegiate crown on Nov. 24, finishing third behind Penn State and Syracuse. Johnston placed eighth in a field of over 100 runners.

"America's Athletic Classic"

39th ANNUAL DRAKE RELAYS

480-YARD SHUTTLE-HURDLE RELAY.—MISSOURI DETHRONES OHIO STATE.

From a none too impressive beginning in 1910, when a mere 82 athletes from six schools competed in a wind and snow-swept stadium, the Drake Relays has steadily grown in prominence until today it takes over as the best among track and field carnivals—truly "America's Athletic Classic."

This year was no exception in top-notch performances, as nearly 2,000 athletes from 125 schools established 11 new records and tied two more. Drawn by the outstanding stars from all over the country, 27,000 spectators were on hand for the two-day classic.

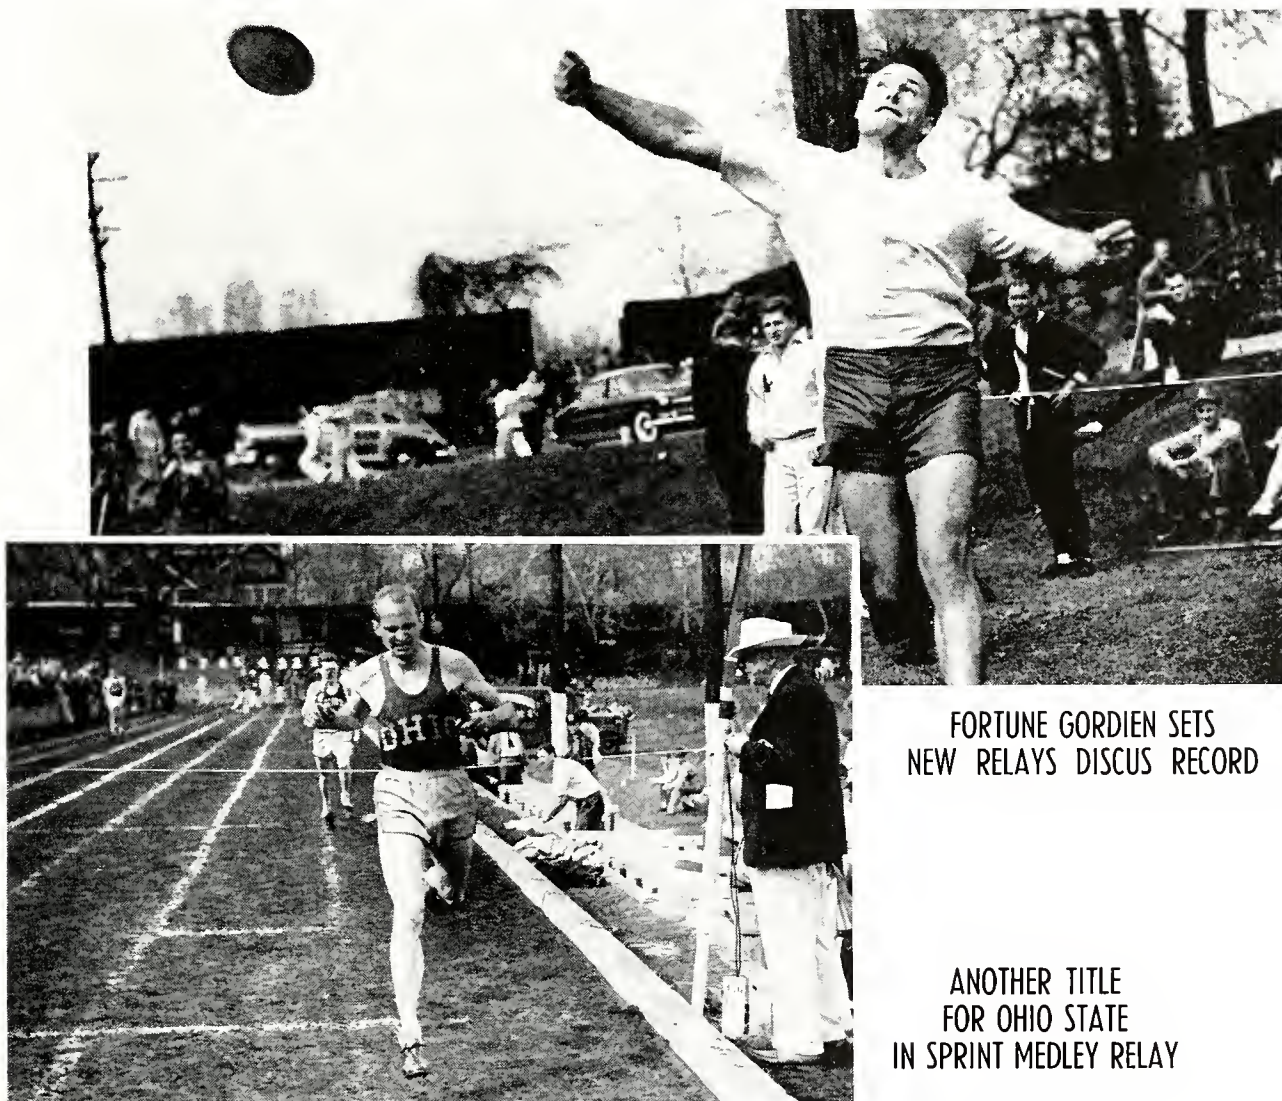

For added incentive, those track greats had their long-range sights set on London, and the XIV Olympiad this summer. A good share of the track squad representing the United States will without a doubt come from the field at the Drake carnival.

As usual the performances at Drake topped the marks at the Penn Relays, held the same two days, 11 to 6, while one mark was the same, in 18 comparable events. Since comparative records were kept back in 1921, Drake has excelled in 229 events, Penn in 183, and there have been 21 ties.

DRAKE'S JEFCHAK WINS TWO-MILE RUN

Unheralded Jerry Jefchak, Drake's top distance-man, pulled the major surprise of the Drake Relays by topping the field in the two-mile run, fighting off the challenge of better known runners in a spectacular finish.

Jefchak, who had never run a collegiate two-mile before, was far back in the pack after the first mile. After the sixth lap he moved up to third, and stepped up the pace on the seventh. In the back stretch of the final lap he took over first as he turned on the steam. Near the finish he staggered, slipped off the track, but regained his poise to nose out Dick Kilty of Minnesota.

Drake placed third in the 440-yard relay behind Texas and Nebraska. Running for Drake were Don Pettie, Dick Stephenson, Ronnie Hannock and Tom Stokes.

Riddled by numerous transfers, ineligibility and men dropping track competition, Coach Tom Deckard took over at Drake faced with an impossible task of producing a track team even worthy of being mentioned in the same breath with Drake teams of the past. From what was left Deckard did manage to build a respectable team.

Leading the Drake thinclads was sprinter Don Pettie, one of the best 100-yard dashmen in competition today. The Canadian speedster reached his indoor-peak by winning the 50-yard dash in a track meet at Montreal, Canada. At the Central collegiate meet at East Lansing, Michigan he placed fourth in the 75-yard dash.

Jerry Jefchak, one of the last of Drake's once long line of fine distancemen, placed third in the mile run at the Central Collegiate. The Bulldog thinclads lost two indoor-track meets to Bradley and Iowa State.

The only outdoor success the Blue and White team could manage was at the Teachers college relays at Cedar Falls. Tom Stokes won the 100-yard dash and the 880-yard relay team of Dick Stephenson, Jim Harris, Ronnie Hanock and Stokes took top honors. Bill Lahey placed second in the two-mile run and the 440-yard relay team took second place.

With a nucleus of eight lettermen to build from, the second post-war edition of the Drake baseball team launched daily-practice sessions early in March under the capable guidance of Coach Jack McClelland. Because of limited facilities, the diamond mentor issued the call to the 30 top prospects.

Leading mound-prospects included Tom Cosgrove, top hurler on the 1947 club. Also lettermen, and expected to carry a good share of the pitching duties, are Bob Erickson, Jack McGivern and Ray Bynum. Among the newcomers, Jack Rosser and Floyd Miller stand out as top performers.

Al Harbutte and James Scott are both in line for the starting catching assignment. Bill Evans, regular outfielder last year, can be called upon to take over behind the plate if necessary.

Top infield prospects include lettermen Jerry Dirksen, Jack Donahue, Bob Heles and Bill Sapp. Newcomers include Jack Runyan, Ben Sapp and Russ Clingan. In the outfield, Evans, Marty Carlson and Joe Lajone appear to be the leading candidates.

Starting the season off on the right side of the ledger, the Bulldogs slipped by Simpson, 4-3, April 9. Improving as the innings went by, the Blue and White nine came from behind to win a thriller. After Dirksen had driven in two runs in the eighth on a triple, Evans doubled in the winning run in the ninth inning.

Central fell before the Bulldogs in the second game, 17-10. Evans led the sluggers in this game with two doubles, while Carlson, Donahue and Smith each banged out two safeties. Rosser was the winning pitcher, after relieving Joe Bell in the first inning.

Iowa State was the first team to stop the Bulldogs, winning 5-2 at Ames. The Bulldogs were plagued by misques, as they committed six errors. The Drake nine managed only three hits, and two of these were by Carlson. Because of the early date that the Quax went to press, no further results were available.

Men's Intramurals

This year's intramural program, under the capable direction of Lewis E. Caswell, proved to be one of the most successful at Drake in recent years. A good portion of the men students not engaged in varsity competition took active part in a full program of sports. The three major projects of the intramural board were touch-football, basketball and softball. Two leagues, independents and fraternities, carried out a full schedule in each of these sports. The champions of each league met at the end of the respective seasons for the Drake intramural crown. The intramural program did not end there, however. Also held were an indoor track meet, swimming meet and a handball tournament.

In touch football, TKE raced past nine opponents without a loss to win the fraternity championship. All fraternities were represented by teams in the league. The Cast-Offs dethroned the once powerful Destroyers for the independent league title, defeating the former champs, 27-0. Only four independent teams were entered. It was TKE all the way in the play-off game Nov. 5. The fraternity champs scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and the Cast-Offs were out of the running. By halftime it was 20-0, with the final score, 26-6. The game was played in a sea of mud and water.

TKE proved almost as powerful in basketball as in touch-football. The Bobcats were the cream of a 14-team field of fraternities, but had a mighty rough time gaining the title. In the final game of league play, TKE slipped past SAE Purple, 27-26, to stay undefeated in fraternity play over a two-year period. It was the Bulldogs all the way in the independent section. Ten teams battled for the title, with the Bulldogs going undefeated. One of the features of the basketball play was the 5-point scoring by Ozzie Lane of the Bulldogs in one game, a new intramural record.

The indoor track meet brought out five fraternity teams, with the Chi Delts topping the field, scoring $69\frac{1}{2}$ points. The Chi Delts placed first in five of the ten events on the program. TKE was second with $51\frac{1}{2}$ points, SAE third with 42, and AEPi and ATO followed with 11 and four points respectively. SAE outclassed the field in the annual swimming meet, scoring 40 points. The Chi Delts were second, ATO third and TKE fourth. Results of the annual softball tournaments were not available when the Quax was printed.

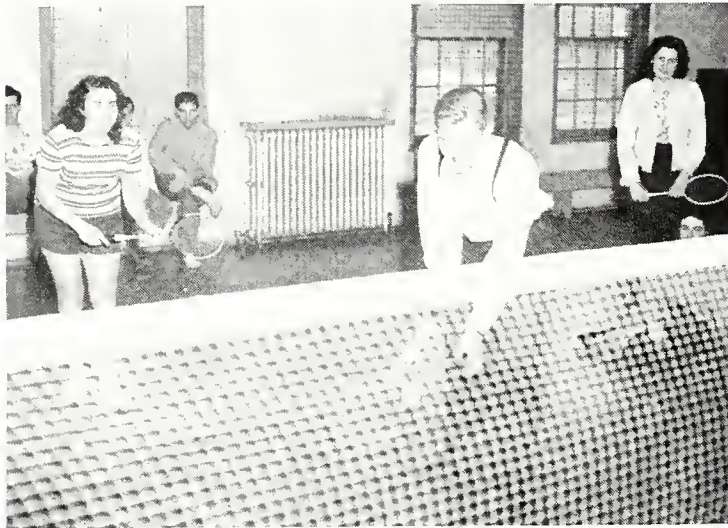

By the number of teams and men competing, the enthusiasm shown and the efficiency of those in charge, the year's intramural program was a real success. Our hats are off to Mr. Caswell, Kayo Kent and the intramural board!

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Recreation for women at Drake is carried on through intramural activities, co-recreation and casual recreation.

All intramurals are governed by the Women's Intramural Board which is made up of a representative of each house on campus and a representative for the clubs. Unorganized town girls are also represented, and there is a faculty sponsor, Miss Hazel Taylor, from the physical education department.

Tournaments in archery, badminton, basketball, ping pong, softball, swimming, tennis and volley ball are sponsored by the Board.

Co-recreation includes dances and tournaments in badminton, table tennis and tennis.

To encourage casual co-recreation, equipment is furnished for students at any time when classes are not in session. The only requirement is that the students respect the privileges. A casual recreation night is planned weekly during winter months for any desired activities.

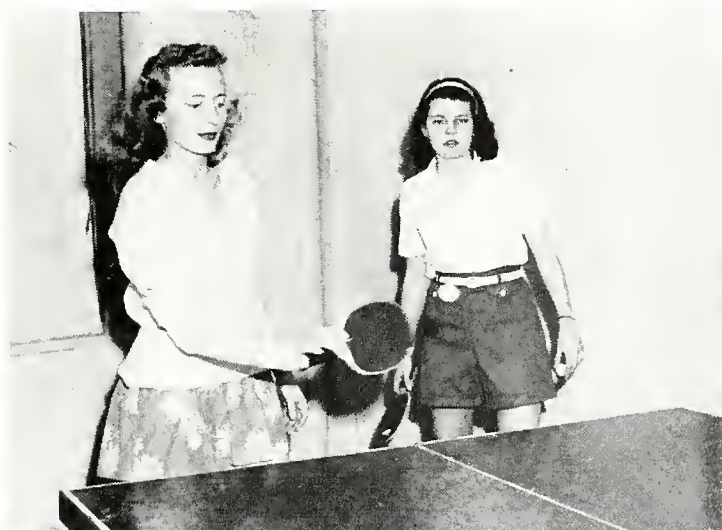

Last year's baseball winners, the Thetas, start practice early.

The Main Dorm girls were the winners of the basketball tournament. Members of the team were Lois Long, Clara Ensey, Irene Butler, Gloma Peterson, Jean Tague, Audrey Van Bosh, Myrna Ruby and Lorraine Upton.

Although swimming has been a part of the physical education program for several years, this is the first year it has been included in intramural competition.

Here's a doubles team practicing for the table tennis tournaments held each spring. Competition includes mixed doubles, doubles and singles.

The new addition of an editorial board of four members has, this year, stirred up campus opinion with their editorials, as evidenced by the "From You" letters of students and faculty.

Staff members of the Delphic work themselves up through the reporting and copyediting classes to their positions in their junior and senior years.

With the close schedule of copy from the reporters coming in on Monday and Wednesday, makeup on Tuesday and Thursday, the Delphic is on campus for distribution on Wednesday and Friday mornings.

The columnists are 'Rubdown', Jerry St. Clair, 'Alles Kaputt', Jess Berry and 'Second Guessing' Gus Milovan.

Sports are written by Bob Case, sports editor, and Wally Rooker, author of "In the Wake of Drake".

QUAX

Planning pages, pictures and copy was the job of Pat Schwartz, Editor.

Mary Bicksler, Associate editor and Helen Best, Assistant editor, help paste the pages and write copy.

Betty Walker and Bill Schneider, Social organizations editors; Grace Pembroke, Student life editor and Bob Schneider, photographer, plan the pictures for their sections.

Contacting businessmen for advertising was left to Joe Cashmark, Advertising manager.

Business manager, Frank Lieber, kept the accounts and made financial arrangements.

For the 1948 Quax, the theme, "Around the Clock," was chosen by our editor, Pat Schwartz, who worked day and night on this year's publication. To help her were Assistant Editor Helen Best, and Associate Editor Mary Agnes Bicksler, both of whom did their best to lighten her burden. To keep us out of the hole was business-like Frank Lieber. Joe Cashmark was the man chosen to make our advertising the best in all past years and that he efficiently did.

Our division editors, Dotty Owens of classes, Marny Griffin of organizations, Grace Pembroke of student life, Bob Case of sports, Betty Walker and Bill Schneider of social organizations, Dolores Van Dyke of faculty, Claire Harbolt and Alice Barry of art, and Jeanine Carlson of circulation, did their jobs most efficiently and willingly and all were practically indispensable to our success.

Take a look at the snapshots, capably done by Bob Schneider and Jack Allensworth, our photographers.

We, the editors and members of the staff give you, the student body and faculty, your Quax for this year with our compliments on your marvelous cooperation and help. Without this cooperation we could have never put out this year-book. To you we all give our thanks.

Pasting panels formed a large part of the jobs of Faculty editor, Laurie Van Dyke, and Classes editor, Dottie Owens.

Handling the art for the division pages were artists Claire Harbolt and Alice Barry.

Publications Board

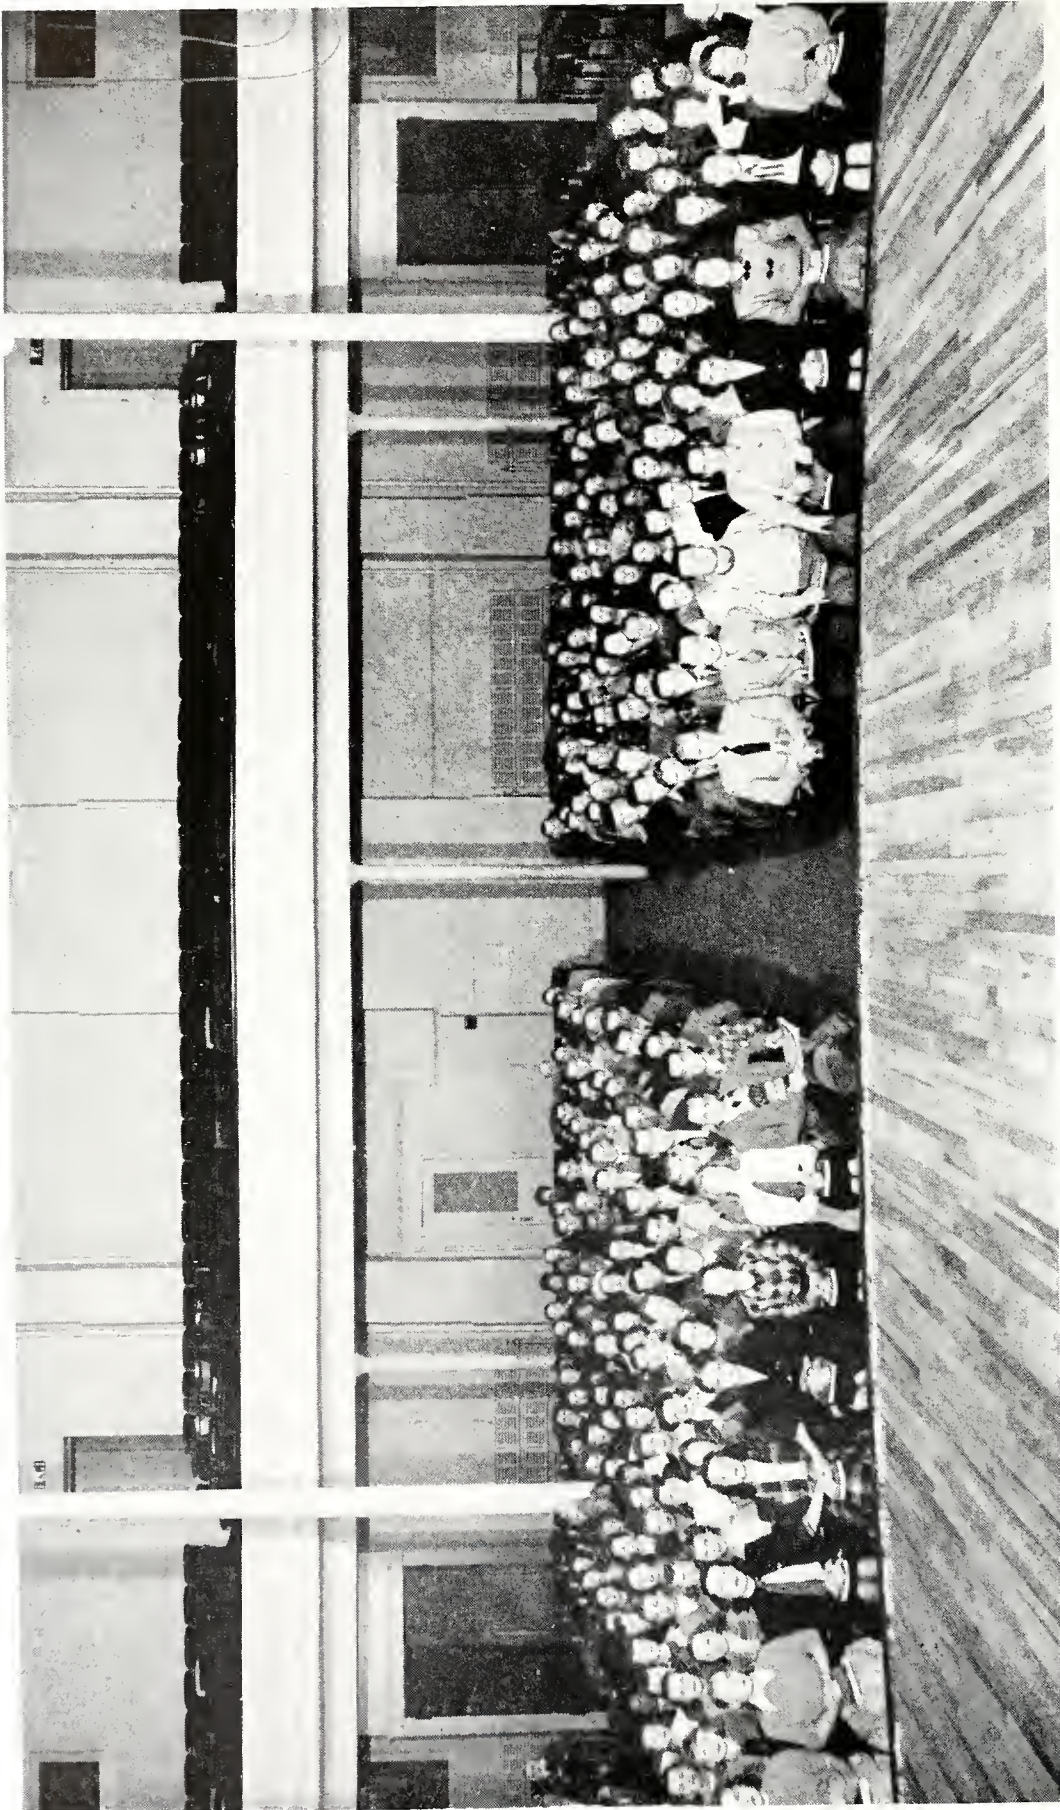

More than 100 students from 10 Iowa High Schools attended the journalism clinic sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi. Discussions and contests filled the day.

Under the direction of Mr. Coggeshall, head of the department of journalism, the Board of Publications passes on all budget questions, and in May, announces the new staffs for the Delphic and Quax.

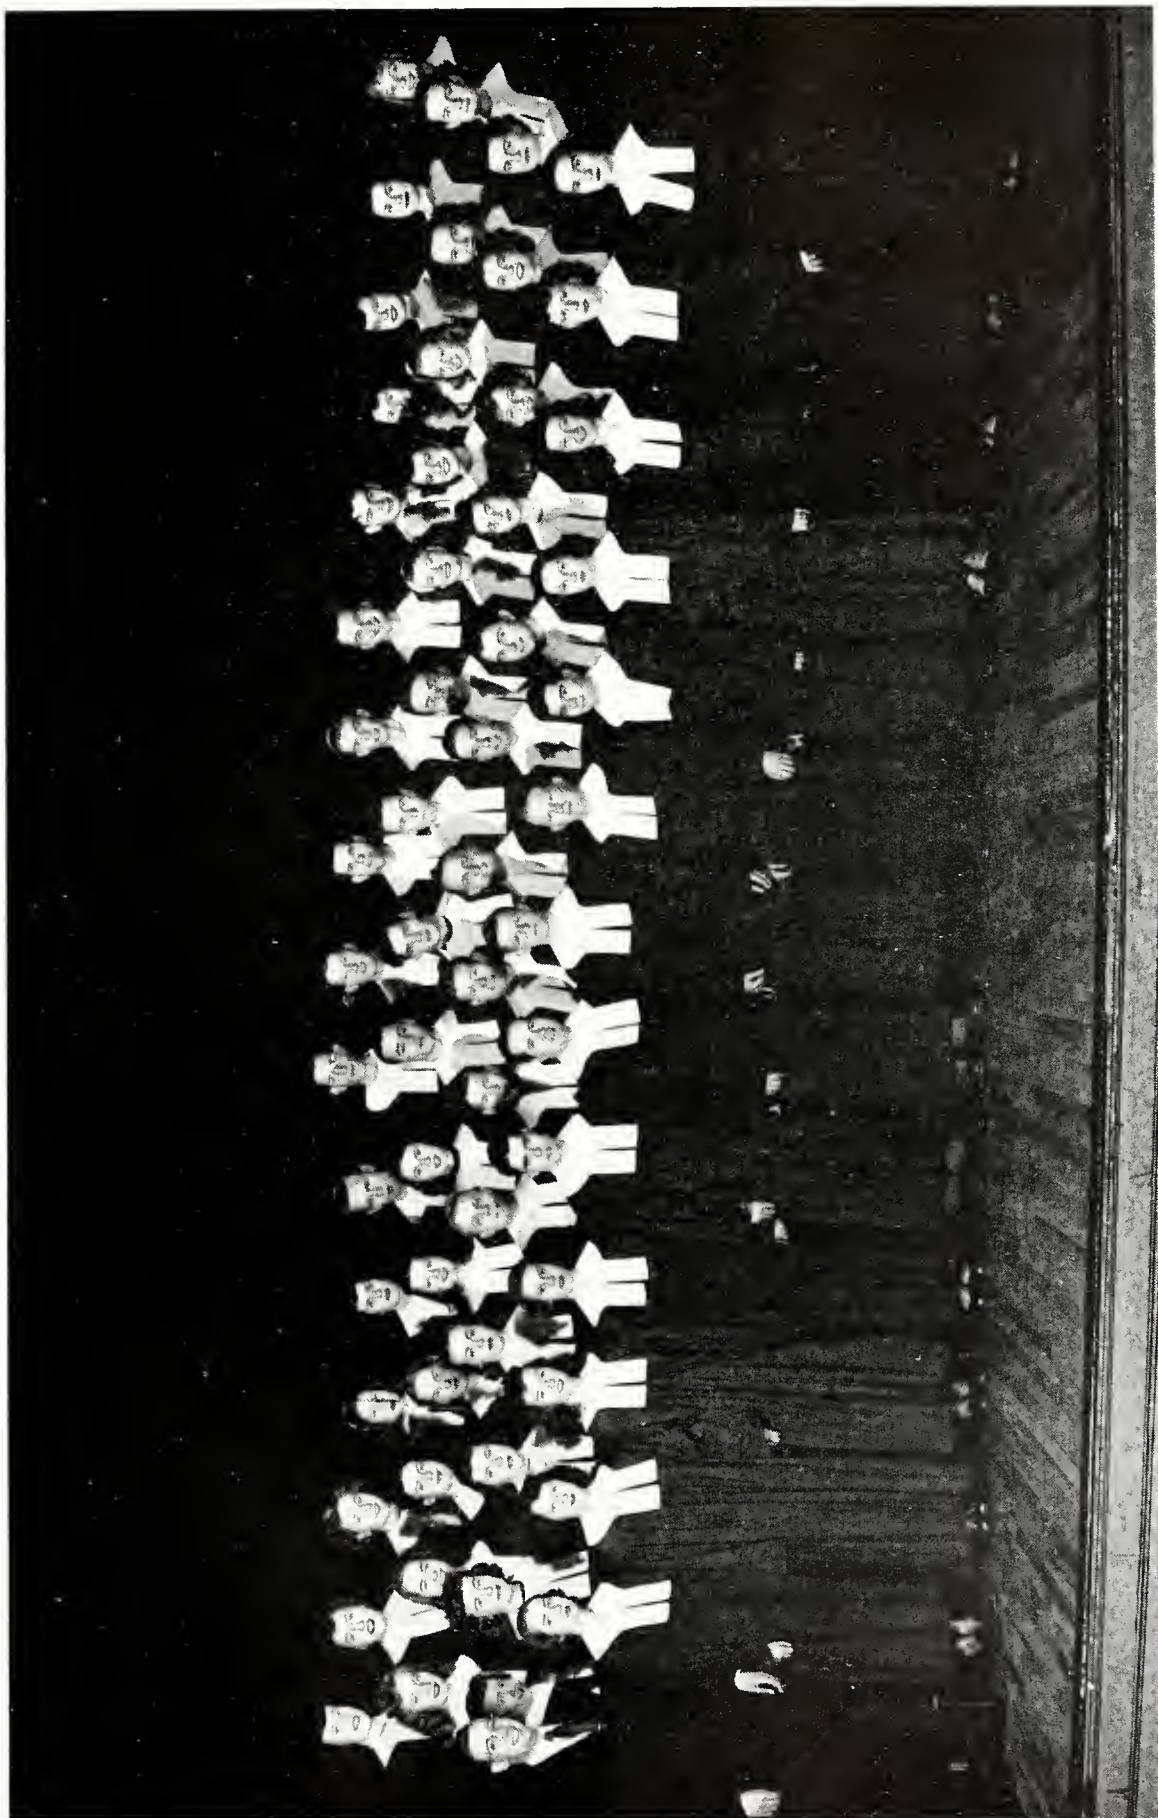

Members of the Board are the head of the journalism department, two faculty members appointed by President Harmon, the editors of the Quax and Delphic, a member of the student-faculty council, representing the student body at large, and alternating each year, the business manager of the Quax, and the business manager of the Delphic.

Music

At all hours of the day, the practice rooms are filled by music majors.

Members of the orchestra and band spend many hours rehearsing before the performance.

Art and Radio

Works of art students are displayed at the varied exhibits sponsored by Delta Phi Delta.

Under the direction of Prof. Edwin Barrett, the members of the radio staff complete another program. The job entails manuscript writing, checking and rehearsals before the finished product is on the air.

Dottie Davies brings the curtain down on the finale of this year's production.

"A Night of Opera"

Lou Kelly and the chorus add gaiety with a musical comedy number.

Virginia Brown Kreutz sings her aria as cast members look on.

The Beauties

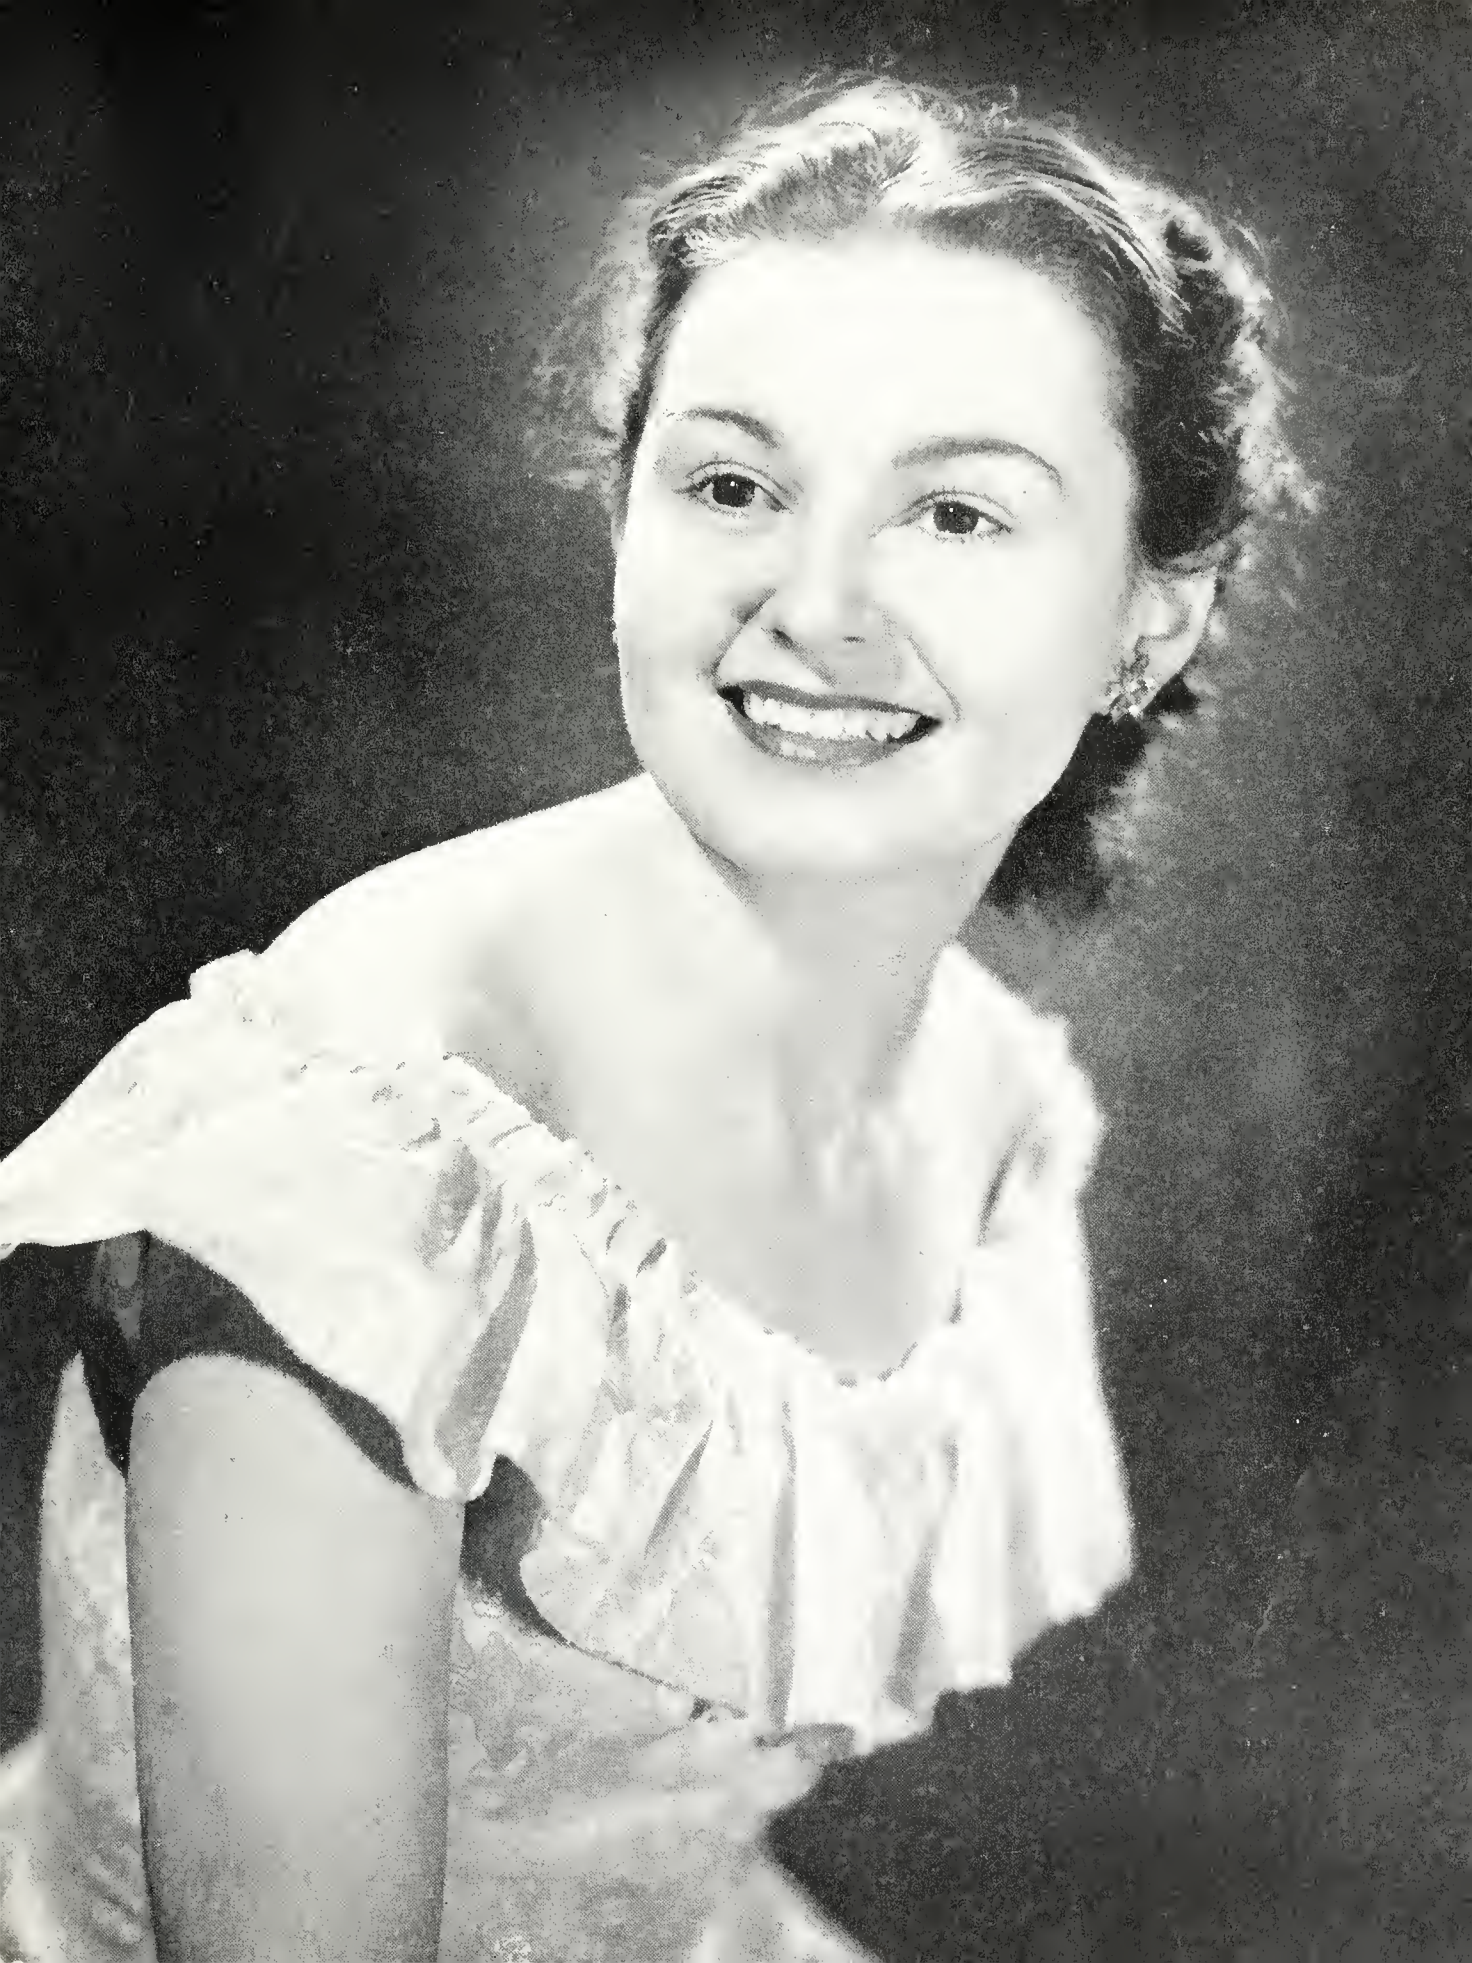

From a field of seventy candidates, local judges chose a group of twelve in the preliminary contest. Mr. Harry Cool, popular orchestra leader, judged in person the twelve semi-finalists, selecting Miss Drake and her five attendants.

Some people started for the library at the word "assignment".

Homecoming

Homecoming Queen Georgene Bristle.

The sorority taking first place honors for their float was Delta Zeta.

Lew McHurlen awards house trophies to Chi O Shirley Henke, and TKE Donn Haglund.

The SAEs took the trophy for fraternity floats.

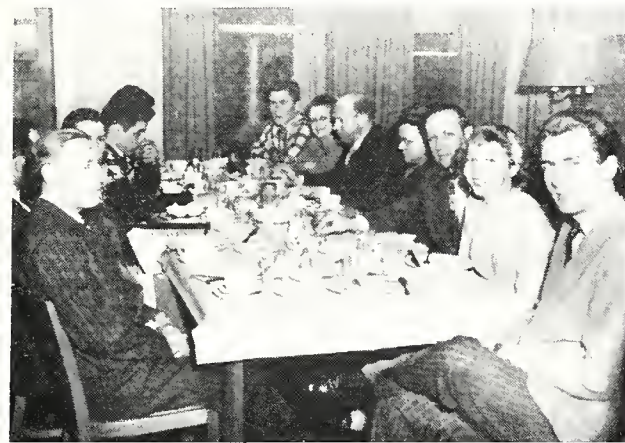

It was the first year for organization floats.

Skip Day

Almost completely filling the Paramount theater, students were elated at the Aggie upset and celebrated by seeing a movie.

Skip Day was carefully planned by the Student-Faculty Council

Coach Al Kawal addressed the students at the theater; cheers were lead by Joe Chomyn.

The Fieldhouse was the scene of the Skip Day dance, held in the afternoon.

Shirley Hansen and Norman Christiansen reigned at the Junior-Senior Prom. Phyllis Thompson and Boh Koch were the attendants.

Homecoming Queen was Georgene Bristle with her four attendants, Beverly Peterson, Faustine Heetland, Bernita Sinderson and Joy Mapes.

Campus Queens

Ernie Turner was queen of the Interfraternity Tascas ball.

President Harmon crowned Grace Pembroke, the ATO Mardis Gras Queen, Ruth Scudder and Phyllis Moline attending.

Margaret Limbert was crowned TKE Sweetheart. Her attendants were Lois Leeds and Liz Martin.

Organization Activities

Governor Robert D. Blue was guest speaker at the reactivation dinner of Phi Alpha Delta, national law fraternity.

Chest X-rays are taken by the Polk County Tuberculosis association.

Continuing the study began last year, a Dental Clinic is set up in the Student Union.

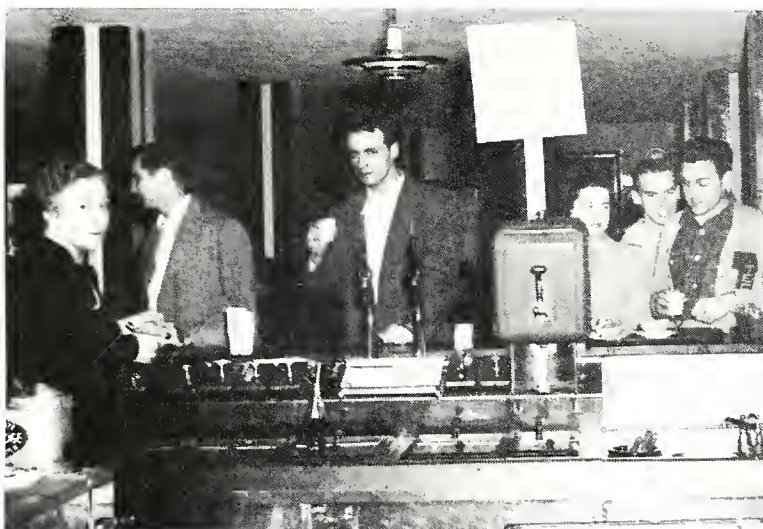

Each third Thursday of the month, girls from campus social organizations set aside books to spend two hours with hospitalized men at the Veterans hospital.

Final selection of twelve candidates, from which six were chosen as Quax beauties, was made at a formal tea at the Main Dorm.

Varied styles of dancing are seen at this informal dance.

Rowen Boylan and Rod Riggs have made their selection at the record shop.

Men of distinction—Dr. Huff and Dean Hoffman.

Spring Scenes

It's been Russ Saunders playing the chimes this year.

Dean Beery awards first place in the men's and women's groups of Sweetheart Sing to Ruth Mary Needham, Delta Zeta, and Russ Saunders, SAE.

The D club with their "Dance of the Horses" was the first place winner in the group section of Bulldog Tales.

The Three Gone Guys, imitating the Andrews sisters, took the first prize in the independently sponsored division.

Jean Ann White was introduced as "Miss Drake" at Bulldog Tales. Her attendants are Marge Arnold, Marilyn Clementson, Ginny Lewis, Dorothy Moore and Donna Weber.

Phil Carroll's "Bartender" was a highlight of Bulldog Tales.

Georgene Bristle, WSSF Queen, awarded the WSSF trophy to Donn Haglund, president of the Tekes, at Spinster's Spree.

1948 Drake Relays

MISS CAROLYN KERR

The 1948 D Club Sweetheart was crowned at the Relays Dance by President Gene Ollrich.

Twenty-seven high school bands from all over the state participated in the parade and relays on a competitive basis.

The journalism "eds", Bob Baldwin, Delphic editor-in-chief; Ernie Turner, '47 Quax editor, and Pat Schwartz, '48 editor, keep up with campus news.

The McNurlen team, Lew, SFC President, and Bonnie, SFC secretary, consult on a problem.

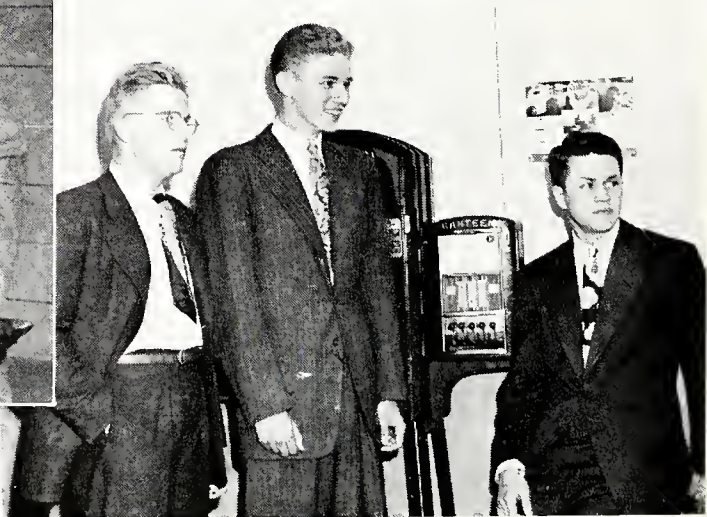

A Who's Who'er both years is Bob DeWitt, who is discussing last year's Quax with debater Lawrence Howard.

National Collegiate Who's Who

Drama majors, Martha Cook and Ely Toplansky, take a quick run through a play.

The Brothers Johann, Walt, debater and active in study groups, and Bill, SAE president; and Bob Sutherland, Convo Committee chairman, see something interesting at the end of the hall.

Jerry St. Clair, football team co-captain, helps Ruth Mann, Wednesday Delphic managing editor, with her coat.

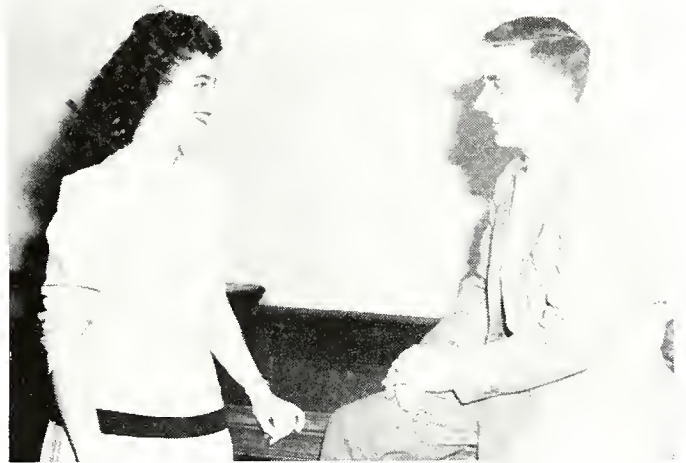

Since 1934 National Collegiate Who's Who has given recognition to the leadership and potential ability of college students.

This year 28 Drake students were named by the college for National Collegiate Who's Who. Eleven students from the Liberal Arts college, nine from Fine Arts, five from Commerce, two from Education, one from Law were selected by a committee from the nominations made by the deans of each college. Bases of the selection were leadership, scholarship, student service, actual ability and most important, potential merit.

A publication, "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" contains the biographies of the students and serves as a measure of achievement and a recommendation to the business world.

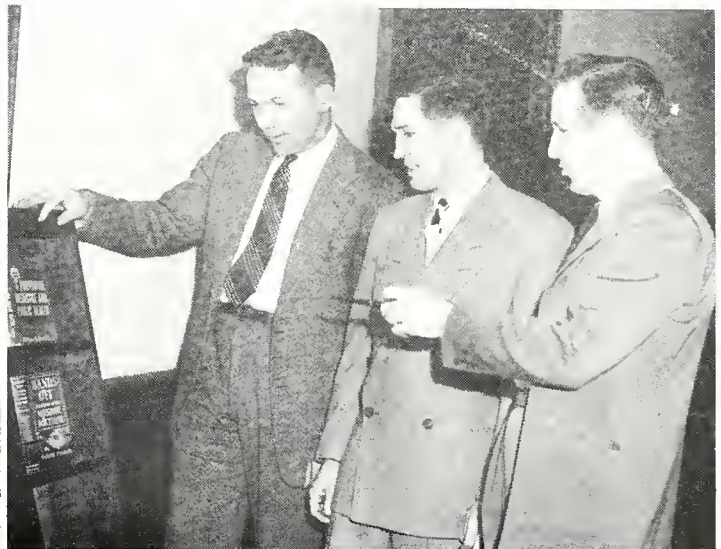

Kathy Saunders, Women's League president; Eleanor Evans, Kappa prexy, and Pat Fitch, SFC member, check on current events.

Georgene Bristle, Kappa Beta Kappa president, and Ed Hachler, Student Federalists president, pass the time of day.

Dorothy Davies, Y.W.C.A. prexy; Dorrie Shearer, Professional Panhell president; Russ Saunders SF council member, gather around the piano as Betty Ponder, pianist par excellence, plays.

Football player James Fitzsimmons; ATO president, Bob Brown, and active law student, John Galvin, look over the latest books in the library.

Zuax

Who's Who

A joint committee composed of faculty representatives and student underclassmen selected twenty-four seniors as nominees for this traditional recognition of Drake yearbooks. Selection by this committee is based on scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities, and service to the university. From these the final twelve are elected by popular student vote.

Meriting special acknowledgment and tribute to their contributions and participation in various fields, the twelve seniors pictured on the following pages are those designated by the students as their outstanding campus leaders.

ROBERT BALDWIN

Bob Baldwin, Times Delphic editor-in-chief, keeps busy in the journalism department. Before his position last year as managing editor, he held other staff positions on the Delphic.

This year Bob was president of an active Sigma Delta Chi, which sponsored Bulldog Tales. Bob was general chairman of Bulldog Tales.

He was also named to National Collegiate Who's Who.

GEORGENE BRISTLE

The title of queen naturally goes to Georgene Bristle. The President of Alpha Xi Delta, has been Victory queen, Homecoming queen, and World Student Service Fund queen.

She has also been active in the band, pep club, Women's Intramurals, Social Panhellenic Board and YWCA. She is Kappa Beta Kappa president.

Her name appears among the National Collegiate Who's Who's.

MARTHA COOK

Although she is a transfer student from the University of Iowa, Martha Cook is in many campus activities. She is secretary-treasurer of the Fine Arts senior class.

A drama and speech major, she has appeared in three all-university productions and several other campus plays, besides backstage work in many others.

A Delta Gamma, Martha has been director of continuity, production, special events and programs on the radio staff.

She is Zeta Phi Eta president, Professional Panhellenic Council vice-president, a member of Theta Alpha Phi, Pi Beta Epsilon, and Margaret Fuller club. She is a member of the National Collegiate Who's Who.

PATRICIA FITCH

Student Faculty council member, Pat Fitch, is Sieve and Shears president, senior class vice-president, International Relations Club secretary and Eta Sigma Phi vice president, this year.

A Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pat has been a member of YWCA Board and Chairman of the World Service committee. She was also selected for National Collegiate Who's Who.

BONNIE COMPTON McNURLLEN

Part of the McNurlen team on the Student Faculty council is council secretary Bonnie Compton McNurlen.

Pianist Bonnie, who was a Young Artists Audition winner, is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, Stoye Club, Margaret Fuller Club, University Chorus, and Sieve and Shears. She was chosen as a member of National Collegiate Who's Who.

LEWIS McNURLLEN

Head of an effective Student Faculty council is friendly, busy Lewis McNurlen. President of the Liberal Arts junior class, he is a member of the United Nations Organization and Alpha Tau Omega.

Lew was named to the National Collegiate Who's Who.

RUSSELL SAUNDERS

Russell Saunders, Student Faculty council member, is Fine Arts senior class prexy, following his term as Fine Arts junior class president.

Russ is a member of the Interfraternity council, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and University Chorus. He was also chosen as a National Collegiate Who's Who member.

PATRICIA SCHWARTZ

The 1948 Quax editor-in-chief, Pat Schwartz, has gained that position by working her way up from staff member through her four years.

She has been International Relations Club vice-president, Delta Phi Alpha secretary-treasurer, sophomore Liberal Arts class vice-president, and junior class secretary-treasurer. She has served on the Main Dorm council and the Interdorm Social council. She has also worked on Student Faculty council committees.

She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, the Commerce Club, Alpha Lambda Delta, Sieve and Shears, and Margaret Fuller Club. She was also selected for National Collegiate Who's Who.

DORRIE SHEARER

Dorrie Shearer started out as president of the Fine Arts freshman class and has wielded the gavel through her four years in many other organizations.

Kappa Alpha Theta, Social Panhellenic, Alpha Lambda Delta, Mu Phi Epsilon, Professional Panhellenic Board, and Drake Choir have all been in her hands.

A member of Stoye Club, orchestra, YWCA, radio staff, Student Faculty council committees, Madrigal singers, Margaret Fuller Club and Sieve and Shears, she has found time to appear in the "Night of Opera" each of her four years at Drake.

She too was selected to National Collegiate Who's Who.

ROBERT SUTHERLAND

Student Faculty council member for next year, Bud Sutherland, is also a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon, Alpha Phi Omega, Delta Sigma Phi, Commerce Club and United Nations Club.

Chairman of the Convocations committee, Bud has worked on SFC special events committee, the love and marriage series committee and the Senior recognition day committee.

ELIAS TOPLANSKY

The lead in three university plays, Elias Toplansky has taken time out to do some running on the track team. He was a member of the National Collegiate cross country championship team.

A member of the Student Faculty council last year, Eli has served also as chairman of the convocations committee and has been chief announcer and sports director of the radio staff.

The Tau Kappa Epsilon treasurer belongs to the D Club, English Club, Commerce Club, Pi Beta Epsilon and Theta Alpha Phi.

Eli was a selection for National Collegiate Who's Who.

ERNESTINE TURNER

The 1947 Quax editor-in-chief, Ernie Turner, turned in her typewriter for the Kappa Alpha Theta gavel this year.

An active member of both Quax and Delphic staffs, she has found time to serve on the Student Faculty Council.

The president of Theta Sigma Phi has also been Sieve and Shears vice president, Liberal Arts senior class secretary, Delta Phi Alpha vice-president, Women's League publicity chairman, Recreational Association secretary-treasurer and Liberal Arts sophomore class secretary-treasurer.

She is also a member of the Social Panhellenic Council, the YWCA, the International Relations club and the League of Women Voters.

Ernie was also named to National Collegiate Who's Who.

Thanks to - -

MR. HENRY SHERMAN of the R. & T. printing office . . . his ever-ready guidance and information shaped this book by cushioning all our mistakes.

MR. WILLIAM BOYLAN and the rest of the R. & T. engraving department . . . they had the difficult tasks of keeping up with the cuts and supplying us with emergency aid.

MR. ART SEGAL . . . the finishing touches are due to his quick development of our embryonic layout ideas.

MR. KEN COOLEY . . . his excellent application of our cover sketches was accompanied by speedy service.

MAXHEIM'S AND BILL . . . their 24-hour service with a smile and super photography saved many a day.

MR. COGGESHALL . . . his positive advice and dependability made him respected by all the staff, and his visualization will make future Quaxes even better.

THE NEWS BUREAU . . . Paul and Betty . . . their cooperation was not only a blessing to us but invaluable.

BOB AND THE DELPHIC STAFF . . . their wealth of information and unselfish "lend-lease" policy made everything simple.

ERNIE . . . not only did she always provide the right solution to our problems but moral support as well.

FRANK . . . a tonic for stopping gray hairs was his complete and superior management of the finances in addition to his friendship.

MARY, HELEN, DOTTIE, KAZ AND JOE . . . their constant dependability subjected them to many long hours of work and "rush" jobs.

LAURIE, MARNY, GRACE, DAVE, BETTY, BILL, CLAIRE AND ALICE . . . their handling of copy, picture worries and deadlines proved their outstanding ability to assume responsibility.

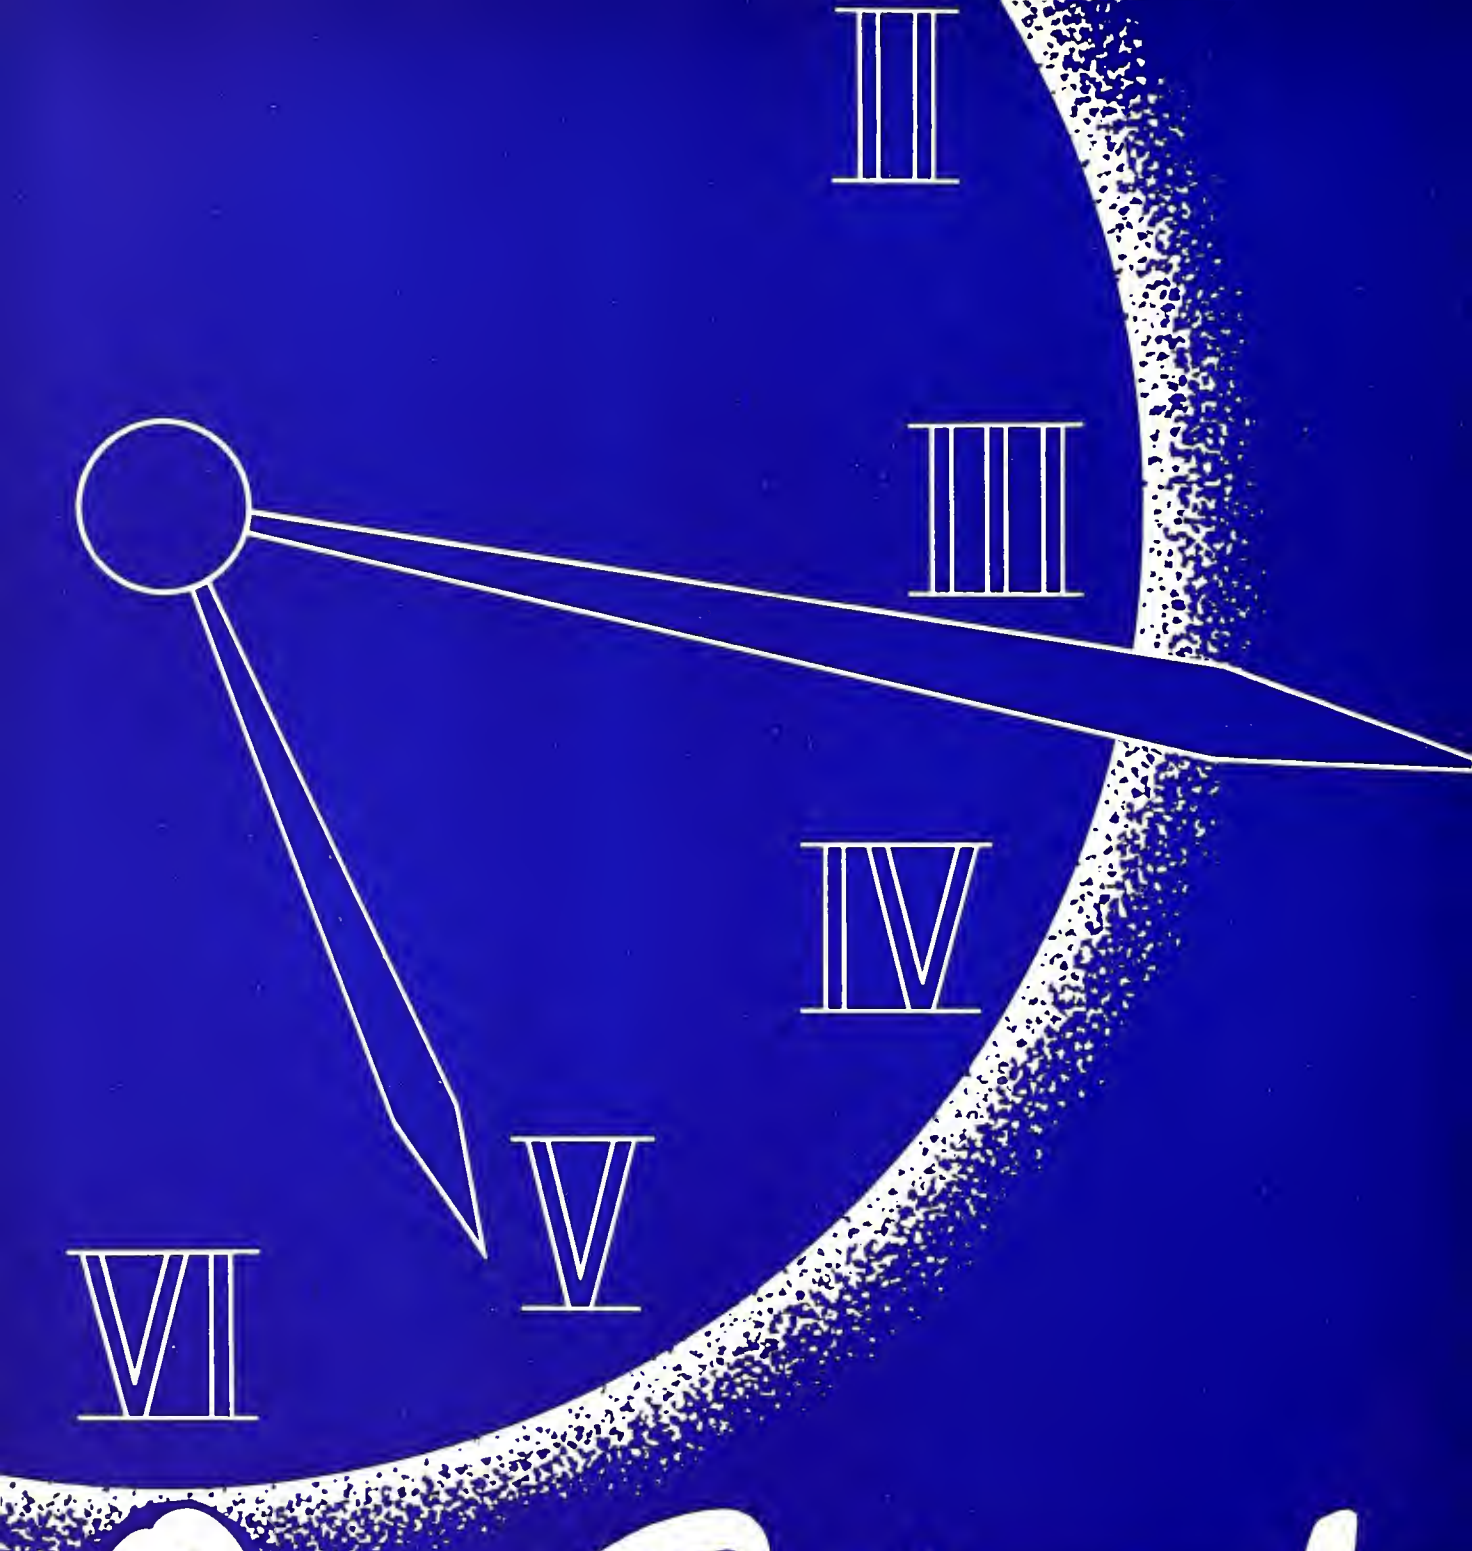

BOB CASE AND HIS STAFF, BOB S. AND SMOE . . . their care of sports and pictures was as smooth as clockwork.

ALL THE REST WHO WORKED ON THE STAFF . . . their jobs covered the span of the clock, each one's unending service made this 1948 QUAX possible.

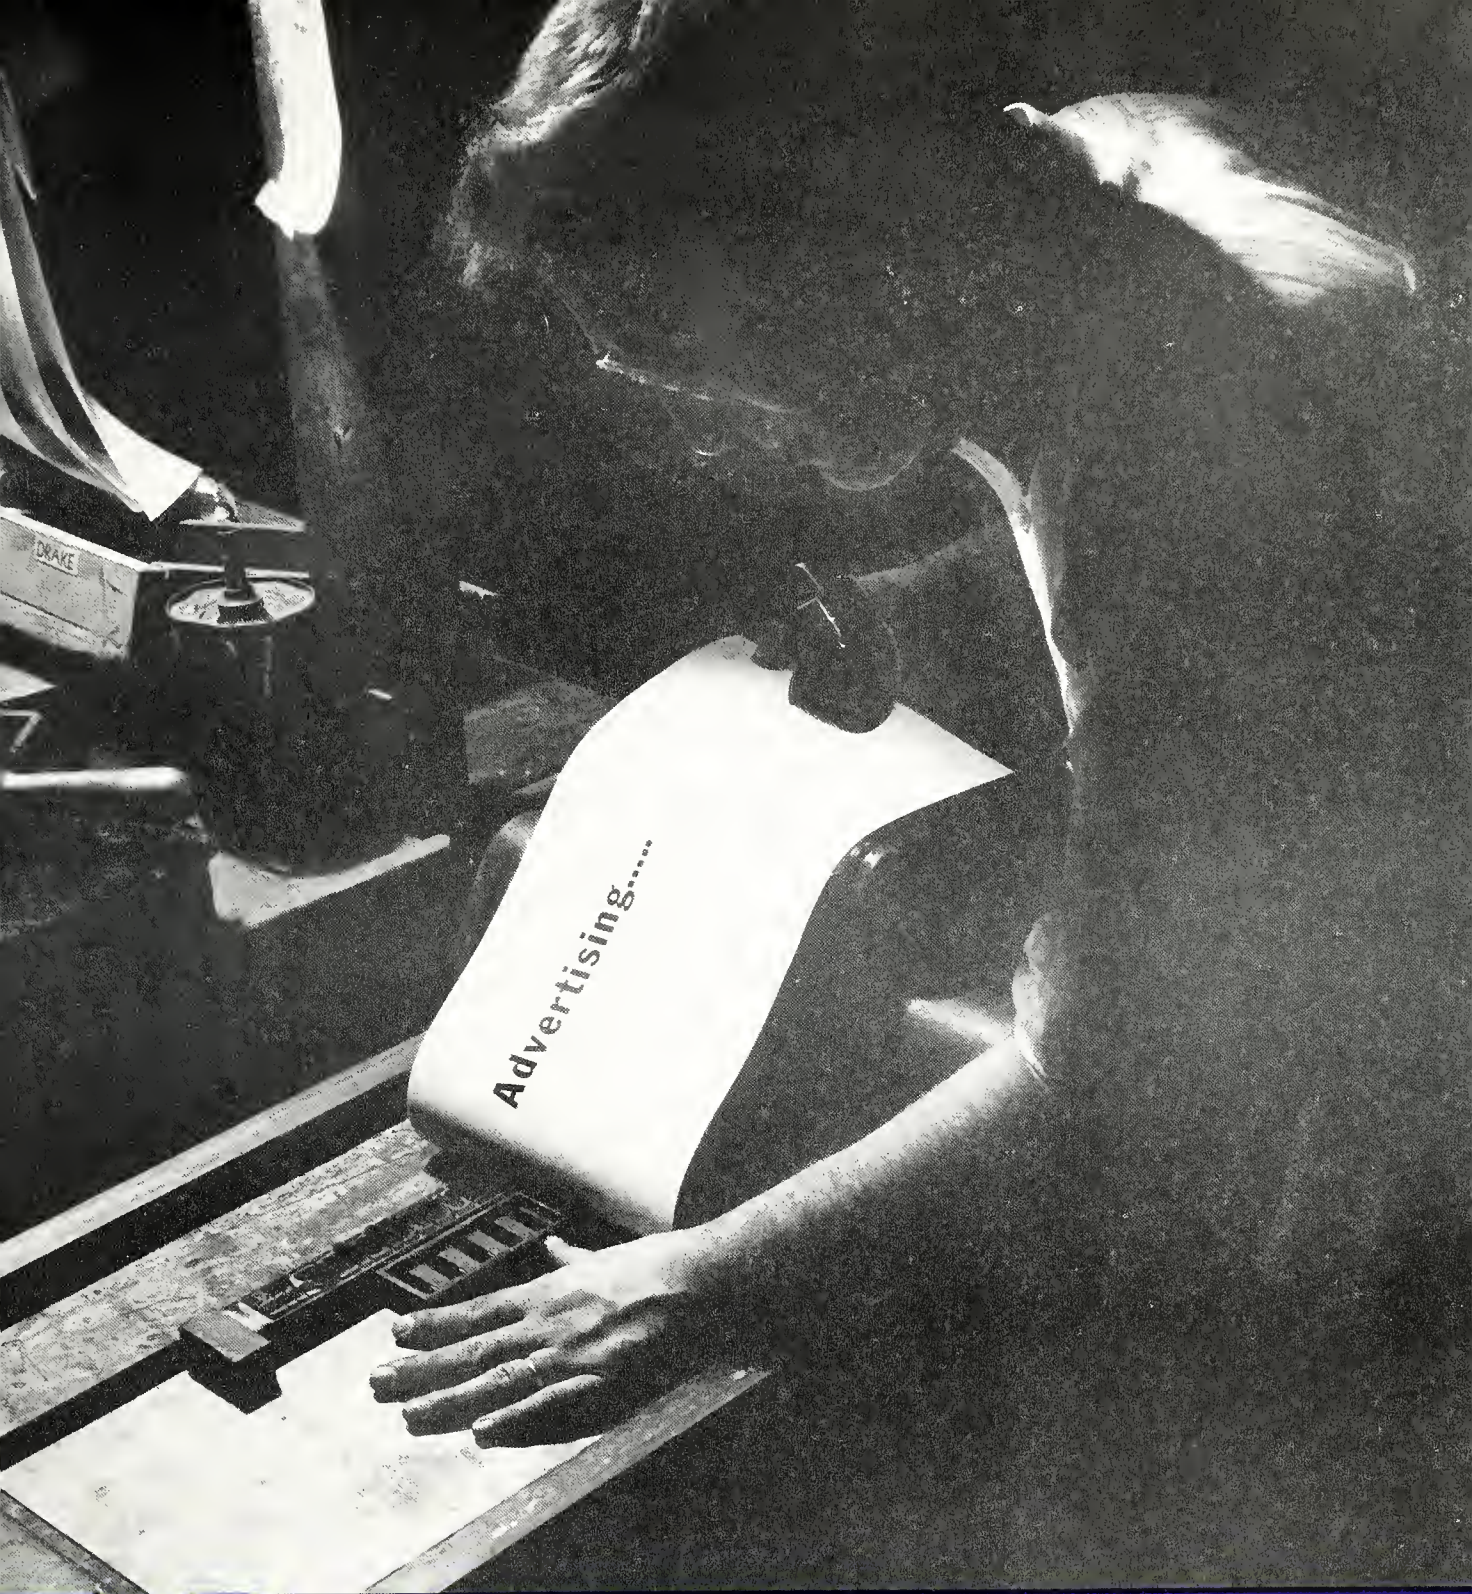

THE DRAKE STUDENTS, DEAN BEERY AND FACULTY . . . from patiently waiting for your picture to searching for information, your cooperation and assistance throughout the year seemed unlimited.
